

New Contract Talk Offer Is Made By Operators

Pittsburgh, Jan. 26 (AP)—The soft coal industry today renewed its offer to John L. Lewis to negotiate a new contract.

The operators said the offer was made because "employees are being deprived of badly needed earnings" and "an acute shortage of coal" exists.

The offer was made in a letter sent Lewis by the operators negotiating committee of the national bituminous coal wage conference.

Same Demands

The industry said it sought a contract based on the same demands it listed in previous fruitless contract negotiations. They are:

1. That the contract run until 1952
2. That no wage increases be sought.
3. That the contract contain a no strike pledge.
4. That it eliminate the clause that in the past permitted miners to work only when "able and willing."
5. That memorial strikes be banned.

80,000 Striking

Royalty payments would continue to be 20 cents per ton.

About 88,000 miners in six states now are striking in dissatisfaction over their failure to get a contract and work a normal five-day week.

Lewis ordered a three-day week last summer in an effort to cut production and bolster his bargaining position.

The operators' letter was prepared under the leadership of President George H. Love of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company. Love is chairman of the negotiating committee.

Lewis' United Mine Workers have listed these contract demands: A boost in the basic daily wage from $14.05 a day to $15; and a 15 cents a ton increase in the payments operators make into the UMW welfare and pension fund.

PRICE THREE CENTS

Firemen Will Award $1,400 In Parade Prizes During 87th Anniversary Celebration Here

Plans already shaping up for the five-day observance this summer of the 87th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg indicate that the 1950 affair will far surpass the noteworthy achievement of the Gettysburg fire company's 1949 observance.

The general committee of the fire company which has been at work since late in 1949 on plans for this year's celebration on June 30 and July 1, 2, 3 and 4, met Wednesday night at the engine house. One of the most important decisions reached at the meeting was the vote to increase the total amount of cash prizes to be paid for the July Fourth parade from $1,050, awarded prize winners last year, to $1,400.

Increase Prizes

The new emphasis this year will be on floats for the parade, and to attract more and better displays. The general committee Wednesday night voted to award $525 in cash prizes, ranging from $100 for the first prize to $15 for the winner of tenth place.

Cash prizes to be awarded to fire companies who participate in the parade will total $500. The committee will award a total of $375 to bands and drum corps. A third prize for drum corps has been added to the first and second prizes on last year's list, and two other new awards have been included, a prize of $50 for the oldest piece of operating fire apparatus in the parade and prizes of $50 and $25 for the best firemen's marching unit in the line of march.

Richard M. Cole is chairman of the sub-committee in charge of parade arrangements. Cpl. Alfred E. McKenney, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college, will again be parade marshal. The sub-committee will hold frequent meetings to arrange further details of the parade, which will include military, as well as firemen's units, civic organizations, bands, drum corps and floats.

OPEN BIDS FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN COURT ROOM

Bids for contracts to better the acoustics in the Adams county court room were opened by the commissioners at their regular meeting at the court house Wednesday afternoon.

Three bids were offered by the Philadelphia office of the Johns-Manville corporation, the Hampshire corporation of Baltimore and the Gentzler Tile and Marble Works of York.

No bids were accepted immediately by the commissioners, due to the absence of County Solicitor Eugene V. Bulleit, who was attorney for a case in court at the time. A special meeting will be held Saturday afternoon when the commissioners and solicitor will go over the bids to determine which one should be accepted.

County Aid Notices

The commissioners also noted that letters have been sent to all townships and boroughs notifying them that the same amount of county aid as was given last year will be available again in 1950. The approximately $27,000 comes from the county's share of the liquid fuel tax collected in the county.

The amount granted to the various townships and boroughs is based on population and mileage of road. One half of the $27,000 is divided according to road mileage, with the amount being approximately $20 per mile. The other half is divided according to population. The lowest amount goes to Arendtsville, which can collect $165.73. The largest amount, $2,072.28 will go to Gettysburg. Franklin township will receive the largest amount of any township, $1,840.31.

Last year marked the first year that all of the county's sub-divisions made application for county aid, completed their work and received the money. The aid is not given until the roadwork has been finished and approved.

Indonesian Capital Stirred By Gunfire In Manhunt For Rebels

Jakarta, U.S.I. Jan. 26 (AP)—Indonesian government troops fought a sharp daylight gun battle today with a band of deserters in the heart of this capital, during an intensive manhunt for supporters of a west Java rebel movement.

The acting chief of staff of the Indonesian armed forces, Col. Simatupang, said seven persons were killed and a number of others were injured in the sudden flareup which occurred while the troops combed through a crowded downtown area.

As darkness fell on the capital of the new independent nation, the population was tense. Armored patrols rattled through the main streets, deserted by civilians. At the office buildings of the federal army headquarters dozens of sentries were on the alert. Troops threw up sandbag fortifications around the building, dug trenches and erected ten-foot high barbed wire fencing.

Floodlights were placed around the headquarters building, and the Dutch placed armed guards before all the Netherlands army and navy establishments here.

FOG CANCELS DR. L. N. MEYER'S SPEECH HERE

Committee reports and the election of two members of a nominating committee in preparation for the annual election in April were the chief items of business transacted at the January meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women at the YWCA building Wednesday evening.

The dense fog prevented Dr. Lester N. Meyer, chief of special education in the state Department of Public Instruction, who was to have been the speaker of the evening, from getting farther than Dillsburg on his trip here from Harrisburg. Rather than return to Harrisburg through the fog, Dr. Meyer spent the night in Dillsburg.

Miss Reidia Longanecker, vice president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Sheldon Ackley and Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington were elected members of the nominating committee with the third member to be appointed.

WORKMAN INJURED

William Lings, 38, Emmitsburg, was treated at the Warner hospital for a laceration to the left side of the forehead received Wednesday morning when he was struck by a piece of lumber while working at the Gettysburg Furniture factory.

Richard Sharrer Ritter, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, 405 East King street, Littlestown, was instantly killed shortly after 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he was struck and run down by the propeller of a small, wingless airplane which had broken away from its roped mooring.

The youth, who was trying to run away from the plane when he was struck, was horribly mangled. His left leg was severed at the hip and his right arm was cut off at the elbow. His right hand was found 10 yards from the body.

Shortly before 5 o'clock, Richard's mother had asked him to take waste paper from the house to an incinerator on the edge of the alley in the rear of the Ritter home. The whirling motor of the small one-seater plane which Paul Luckenbaugh, a next door neighbor, owned and was repairing, attracted the youngster.

Plane Breaks From Mooring

The plane was without wings and consisted only of the motor and fuselage. Its motor had been started some time previously and the plane was moored to a fence with a small, old piece of rope, according to Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, who was summoned.

Luckenbaugh is reported to have warned a number of children who had been watching the plane to stay away. When the rope broke, Richard, his younger brother, Carl, and several other children started running but the propeller struck Richard. The wingless plane continued rolling for about 25 feet and then upset when it struck a small rise in the ground.

Will Conduct Inquest

Dr. Donald B. Coover was summoned who in turn called Dr. Crist, and Chief of Police Leon H. Gage, Littlestown, who is in charge of the investigation. An inquest will be held.

Pictures were scheduled to be taken today at the scene of the accident.

Edward A. Fagnani, aeronautic investigator for the Pennsylvania State Police, was in Littlestown this morning to conduct an investigation of the fatality.

Planned Birthday Party

Richard was born January 28, 1942, at the Warner hospital and was a resident of Littlestown all his life. He was planning to celebrate his eighth birthday on Saturday and invitations for his party had already been mailed.

He was a pupil in the Third grade of the Littlestown public schools and was in the upper fourth of his class. He was also a member of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. Stanley M. Staub in St. Paul's Lutheran church, and a member of the Junior choir of St. Paul's church. It had also been his plan to join the Cub Scouts at an early date.

Ritter, Taneytown; his maternal grandfather, Newton O. Sharrer, Rocky Ridge, Md., and his maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Clara Sharrer, York.

34 CHAIRMEN OF COUNTIES ON STATE PAYROLL

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—A third Duff-for-senator meeting at Hershey Saturday takes on new significance with a disclosure today that 34 of the 67 Republican county chairmen are on the state payroll. John H. Basehore, Adams county chairman, receives $2,320 as inheritance tax investigator.

Backers of Gov. James H. Duff's candidacy for the GOP nomination for U.S. senator have invited all of the county leaders to the conference.

M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, has indicated that a counting of noses at the pro-Duff meeting will indicate where the chairmen stand in the current GOP factional war.

Duff and Taylor are allied in a fight against an element in the party led by U.S. Senator Edward Martin, former U.S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy and G. Mason Owlett, GOP national committeemen.

Chairman from 16 of the counties held state jobs and all indications point to a turnout of jobholders at the Saturday session.

Twenty-three of the 34 county chairmen getting state checks are directly accountable to the governor who has complete power to hire and fire them.

Five Republican senators, who each get a $1,500 a year salary plus $100 a month for expenses, are included in the list. As elected officials, they are not, however, subject to dismissal for patronage reasons.

They include Sens. Taylor, Dauphin; Lloyd H. Wood, Montgomery; George B. Scarlett, Chester; G. Graybill Diehm, Lancaster, and Samuel B. Wolfe, Union. Only Wolfe has not yet announced for Duff.

The $9,000 a year job of G. Harold Watkins, Schuylkill chairman, has as Senate secretary also is not subject to a gubernatorial recall, although Watkins has come out for the governor.

Five other jobs are scattered in the auditor general, state treasurer and internal affairs departments. Chiefs of these departments are elected and jobs under them not handled by Duff.

Plans Announced For Fruit Meeting

Plans for the annual county-wide all-day fruit growers meeting to be held Saturday, February 4, at the Biglerville auditorium starting at 9:30 a. m. were announced today by Frederic E. Griest, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the Fruit Growers Association of Adams county.

Reports will be presented by the auditing committee, comprising Ralph Tyson, Lloyd Benner and Clark Fetters and by the nominating committee, comprising Frederic E. Griest, Harvey Raffensperger and Stuart Luebbach.

Spray suggestions for apple, peach and cherry will be explained by extension specialists in entomology and pathology. A discussion of tree removal and disposal and suggestions on planting distance will be presented by an extension pomologist.

Dinner will be provided by the C. H. Musselman company at the Biglerville plant cafeteria at 12:30 o'clock. Speaker at the afternoon session will be the Rev. Nevill Smith, pastor of Emmanuel Reformed church, of Hanover.

Wedding

Hess—Six
Miss Audrey Virginia Six, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin R. Six, Taneytown, became the bride of Donald Elmer Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. David William Hess, Taneytown Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. S. Poffenberger and the Rev. Glenn L. Stahl at the Keyville Lutheran church, Keyville, Md. The church was decorated with pink and white snapdragons, ferns and lighted tapers. A 20-minute organ recital by Miss Hazel E. Hess, aunt of the groom, preceded the ceremony, and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh, cousin of the bride sang several solos.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of white slipper satin with a square neck from which three tiered satin plaques effected a drop shoulder yoke. The fitted bodice was caught in the back with a full satin bustle-draping to a full skirt and ending in a circular train. She wore a seed pearl trimmed cap of illusion with finger tip veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a wedding gift from the groom.

Miss Betty Mayberry, Gettysburg, was maid of honor. Her gown was fashioned of pale blue marquisette. The bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Lambert of Frederick, and Miss Arlene Moore, of Taneytown. They wore frocks of jonquil yellow marquisette and taffeta and all carried colonial bouquets with contrasting ribbons.

Merle Feeser, of Taneytown, was best man and the groomsmen were Fred Willhide, Keyville, Md., and Raymond Clabaugh, Taneytown.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue street length dress with black accessories, and the groom's mother in a street length dress of ice blue crepe with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of pale pink rosebuds gathered with matching marquisette.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for more than 100 guests.

The couple left for a Florida honeymoon. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Leister of Taneytown, who are also honeymooning at this time. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a smart, durable green satin dress with brown accessories.

On their return the couple will reside with the groom's parents. The bride was graduated from Taneytown high school in 1949 and has been employed in Baltimore. She was chosen as Miss Carroll County in 1947 in a contest sponsored by the Farm bureau and was named runner-up in the state-wide contest at Timonium the same year.

The groom graduated from Taneytown high school in the class of 1948 and has since been engaged in farming with his father.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. S. Poffenberger and the Rev. Glenn L. Stahl at the Keyville Lutheran church, Keyville, Md. The church was decorated with pink and white snapdragons, ferns and lighted tapers. A 20-minute organ recital by Miss Hazel E. Hess, aunt of the groom, preceded the ceremony, and Mrs. Arthur Clabaugh, cousin of the bride sang several solos.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of white slipper satin with a square neck from which three tiered satin plaques effected a drop shoulder yoke. The fitted bodice was caught in the back with a full satin bustle-draping to a full skirt and ending in a circular train. She wore a seed pearl trimmed cap of illusion with finger tip veil and carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a wedding gift from the groom.

Miss Betty Mayberry, Gettysburg, was maid of honor. Her gown was fashioned of pale blue marquisette. The bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Lambert of Frederick, and Miss Arlene Moore, of Taneytown. They wore frocks of jonquil yellow marquisette and taffeta and all carried colonial bouquets with contrasting ribbons.

Merle Feeser, of Taneytown, was best man and the groomsmen were Fred Willhide, Keyville, Md., and Raymond Clabaugh, Taneytown.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue street length dress with black accessories, and the groom's mother in a street length dress of ice blue crepe with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of pale pink rosebuds gathered with matching marquisette.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for more than 100 guests.

The couple left for a Florida honeymoon. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Leister of Taneytown, who are also honeymooning at this time. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a smart, durable green satin dress with brown accessories.

On their return the couple will reside with the groom's parents. The bride was graduated from Taneytown high school in 1949 and has been employed in Baltimore. She was chosen as Miss Carroll County in 1947 in a contest sponsored by the Farm bureau and was named runner-up in the state-wide contest at Timonium the same year.

The groom graduated from Taneytown high school in the class of 1948 and has since been engaged in farming with his father.

OPEN COPLON TRIAL TODAY

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The government opened its case against Judith Coplon and Valentin A. Gubitschev today.

Raymond P. Whearty, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, told a Federal court jury he would prove that the former government girl and the Russian engineer plotted to steal U. S. defense secrets for the Soviet Union.

Lawyers for the defendants were to make their opening remarks after Whearty finished. They held a brief conference before today's trial session opened in an effort to iron out differences over how the defense should be conducted.

Whearty spoke quietly and undramatically. Most of the time he addressed the jurors, six men and six women, but occasionally he spoke directly to the petite, 28-year-old Miss Coplon and the stubby, 33-year-old Gubitschev.

Truman Wants Atom Contracts Signed

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—With the nation's atomic program going faster than expected, President Truman has asked Congress to let the government sign $87,650,000 in contracts now, instead of next summer.

The White House submitted the request for additional contract authority yesterday, without waiting for adoption of the budget for the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

While the request came in the midst of widespread speculation about a program for making hydrogen bombs — a super-explosive far mightier than conventional atomic bombs — there seemed little reason to relate the two.

For one thing, the cost of an H-bomb project has been unofficially estimated at from $200,000,000 to more than a billion dollars. The White House said the authority to let $87,650,000 worth of contracts now is needed for an atomic plant-expansion plan announced last October.

To Resume Hearing On Shoe Industry

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The wage-hour administration said today that February 6 has been tentatively set for resuming a hearing on an application from the shoe industry for a special learner's pay rate.

The National Shoe Manufacturers Association has asked the wage-hour administrator to fix a rate of 57½ cents an hour for learners during their first six months of work in the industry.

The minimum wage rate under the new wage-hour law is 75 cents an hour but the administrator is permitted to set sub-minimum rates for learners.

At an initial hearing on the industry's request, held several weeks ago, the CIO opposed establishing any shoe learner rate, asking that the full 75-cent minimum apply. The AFL suggested a 70-cent shoe learner minimum if any special rate is set.

BACKS EQUAL RIGHTS

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—A resolution calling for a constitutional amendment on women's equal rights won the support of U. S. Senator Edward Martin (R-Pa.). Senator Francis Myers (D-Pa.) was listed as not voting or paired but favoring passage of the measure. The resolution carried the Senate 63 to 19.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Give Us Back Our Sidewalks, Slim!

I wrote that over an article in the Clarion last week, but I didn't like doing it. After all, the man it was aimed at—Slim Henderson—is a good friend of mine.

Slim came into quite a windfall last month, and bought the old Clarke place. The deed gave him title to all the land—right down to the street. Then Slim started to take up the sidewalk to make his lawn look better.

I felt it wasn't fair to the town and said so in my article. Next morning Slim comes around and wants to know what I mean—getting folks riled against him. I felt ornery myself, and we had quite a set-to over the whole business.

From where I sit, that was foolish. Once we'd cooled off (over lunch and a bottle of beer at Andy's Tavern), Slim decided the sidewalks should stay—for the common good and I promised next time I'd take a good look at the other fellow's point of view before writing any articles about him!

34 CHAIRMEN OF COUNTIES ON STATE PAYROLL

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—A third Duff-for-senator meeting at Hershey Saturday takes on new significance with a disclosure today that 34 of the 67 Republican county chairmen are on the state payroll, John H. Basehore, Adams county chairman, receives $2,320 as inheritance tax investigator.

Backers of Gov. James H. Duff's candidacy for the GOP nomination for U.S. senator have invited all of the county leaders to the conference.

M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, has indicated that a counting of noses at the pro-Duff meeting will indicate where the chairmen stand in the current GOP factional war.

Duff and Taylor are allied in a fight against an element in the party by U.S. Senator Edward Martin, former U.S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy and G. Mason Owlett, GOP national committeeman.

Chairman from 16 of the counties hold state jobs and all indications point to a turnout of jobholders at the Saturday session.

Twenty-three of the 34 county chairmen getting state checks are directly accountable to the governor who has complete power to hire and fire them.

Five Republican senators, who each get a $1,500 a year salary plus $100 a month for expenses, are included in the list. As elected officials, they are not, however, subject to dismissal for patronage reasons.

They include Sens. Taylor, Dauphin; Lloyd H. Wood, Montgomery; George B. Scarlett, Chester; G. Graybill Diehm, Lancaster; and Samuel B. Wolfe, Union. Only Wolfe has not yet announced for Duff.

The $9,000 a year job of G. Harold Watkins, Schuylkill chairman, has as Senate secretary also is not subject to a gubernatorial recall, although Watkins has come out for the governor.

Five other jobs are scattered in the auditor general, state treasurer and internal affairs departments. Chiefs of these departments are elected and jobs under them not handled by Duff.

Reports will be presented by the auditing committee, comprising Ralph Tyson, Lloyd Benner and Clark Fetters; and by the nominating committee, comprising Frederic E. Griest, Harvey Raffensperger and Stuart Lucabauh.

Spray suggestions for apple, peach and cherry will be explained by extension specialists in entomology and pathology. A discussion of tree removal and disposal and suggestions on planting distance will be presented by an extension pomologist.

Dinner will be provided by the C. H. Musselman company at the Biglerville plant cafeteria at 12:30 o'clock. Speaker at the afternoon session will be the Rev. Nevill Smith, pastor of Emmanuel Reformed church, of Hanover.

Appreciates Treatment

"Aren't you going to put me in jail?" Loftis asked authorities. When informed that he would not be jailed, but would be allowed to wait for the money in the police office, Loftis said: "That's not the way they do it at home."

According to Burgess William G. Weaver, Loftis said he had been arrested in South Carolina, had been "slapped" by the arresting officer, and thrown unceremoniously in the lockup.

"I sure appreciate your treatment of me here," he said. "It's a pleasure to pay this fine."

Loftis, the authorities said, made arrangements to pay for the damage to the Weiser lawn also.

At an initial hearing on the industry's request, held several weeks ago, the CIO opposed establishing any shoe learner rate, asking that the full 75-cent minimum apply.

The AFL suggested a 70-cent shoe learner minimum if any special rate is set.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

AS A FRIEND

What a glorious distinction, just to remain in the background—as a friend. Who wouldn't envy such an office? The greatness of another, attained, how very little any of us can add to it. We add honor to ourselves simply through that fact of friendship with greatness.

Said Maria Edgeworth, referring to her friendship with Sir Walter Scott: "I glory in the thought that my name will go down to posterity as his friend." It is difficult to read the life story of anyone who has gained fame and honor, without meeting up with many who were that one's friend.

Admiral Peary once wrote to me that he owed his final triumph in the discovery of the North Pole to his "iron men" who were his faithful followers and friends. In my first meeting with Capt. Bob Bartlett, I mentioned this and never did another extol Peary as did this rugged captain of the sea. He was perfectly willing to remain in the background—as a friend.

Just imagine what a world of happiness would be ours if only nations would talk over their misunderstandings—as friends! No need then of marching armies, guns, planes, and devilish demons of death and destruction. The most powerful peace propaganda in the world is friendship propaganda.

As a friend, many a one has loaned to a worthy person, a sum that gave him an early footage, inspiring him toward his goal. Such was the loan that Scott gave to Thomas Campbell, the poet, as a youth. Our encouragement, as a friend, however, far outweighs any other consideration. Even as our kindly criticism, as a friend.

These daily talks are written as the words of one unseen friend to another. As such they present their only claim for being. As a friend we can speak boldly without fear of a misunderstanding. As a friend we can even enter territory "where angels fear to tread." There is something so sincere and genuine about a friend.

As a friend our better nature is always in triumph. Friends can work peacefully and happily together. From my office building I look out upon the rising United Nations structure, and I say to myself only as that organization works singly and collectively—as friends—can it survive.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Why Not Happiness?"

Re-decorated Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church Is Re-dedicated At Special Service On Sunday

Sunday evening, January 22, the Presbyterian church of Emmitsburg held a service of re-dedication, Rev. Charles S. Owen, pastor. Guest minister at the service was Rev. John Hays who preached on "The Riddle of Man."

The church had an early beginning. Nearly one hundred and eighty-nine years ago the Presbyterian settlers formed a congregation near Emmitsburg. Since those early days when pioneers cut their way through the wilderness, the church has developed and has had a marked influence on the history of this area.

Early Presbyterian settlers in Frederick county, Md., came from Scotland and the north of Ireland. Built in 1839

Along the Gettysburg road, near the Presbyterian cemetery, the congregation worshipped for seventy-eight years until 1839, when the church was torn down and rebuilt in Emmitsburg.

The Rev. Robert McMordie was appointed to supply at "Monksey" in September, 1760. (Taken from the minutes of the Presbytery of Donegal, which was created in 1732.) This is believed to be the first notice of preaching in this area.

Other ministers serving the congregation from 1761 to present are: Rev. John Beard, Rev. Robert Smith, Rev. Samuel Thompson, Rev. W. Edmeston, Rev. John Slemons, Rev. William Magaw, 1775 to 1779, Rev. Ezekiah Balch; vacant, with occasional supplies, till 1782; 1783 to 1789, Rev. John McKnight; vacant from 1790 to 1791, supplies; 1792, to 1795, Rev. Dr. William Paxton; vacant from 1797 to 1800, supplies; 1800 to 1810, Rev. Patrick Davidson; vacant from 1811 to 1813, with supplies; 1814 to 1865, Rev. Robert S. Grier; 1866 to 1873, Rev. Isaac M. Patterson; 1873 to 1897, Rev. Dr. William Simonton; 1897 to 1905, Rev. Dr. David H. Riddle; 1905 Rev. Kenneth M. Craig, Rev. L. B. Heasley, Rev. John D. Chase, Rev. Thomas T. Brown, Rev. Irwin N. Morris, and Rev. Mr. Owen, the present pastor.

Dr. Balch First Pastor

Members of Tom's creek in the early history of the Presbyterian church knew nothing but toil and hard labor. Walking or going to church by horseback through all kinds of weather were usual in those days. Willingly, the people did this for the sake of being able to worship as they pleased and that they might establish the foundation for the future builders of the same faith.

Rev. Dr. Ezekiah Balch was the first pastor of the present church and preached for four years.

Second pastor, after being without a permanent one for two years, was Rev. Dr. John McKnight. Rev. McKnight received the promise of 50 bushels of wheat from each of congregations, Tom's Creek and Lower Marsh Creek church as part payment of his salary.

Joined With Piney Creek

For four years Dr. William Paxton served the congregation. Rev. Patrick Davidson followed Paxton as pastor of the church.

Tom's Creek and Piney Creek for the first time in a period of forty years united under the same minister. This lasted through successive pastorates for three-quarters of a century.

Rev. Robert Grier was received on April 12, 1814, and was numbered among one of the few pastors who lasted so long. Rev. Mr. Grier spent his entire ministry at the parish. He was an earnest, instructive, clear and an extremely energetic preacher. Rev. Grier knew the gospel and how to preach it in a plain and direct way. His people felt as if they belonged to him and he to them, since he remained so long. "Grierites" was the name the people often called themselves.

Church Burned

During the ministry of Rev. Mr. Isaac M. Patterson from 1866 to 1873 both houses of worship were remodeled and refurbished. A parsonage property was purchased, enlarged and improved at an expense of several thousand dollars. Judgment, tact, and prudence were required in this emergency. The cause of benevolent contributions was increased; prayer meeting and lecture children in the Sabbath school, and other things of equal importance were a few of the many accomplishments during Rev. Patterson's faithful pastorate.

The church was again torn down and a new gothic church which cost $9,000 was constructed in 1878 during the ministry of Rev. William Simonton. On August 28, 1902, this structure was struck by lightning and was entirely consumed. It was rebuilt and occupied for the first time in 1904 under the ministry of Rev. David H. Riddle.

In April of 1839 the lot to build the church was bought from the Misses Mary and Margaret Knox. Installed in 1942

Through the years there have been many changes and additions. A little over a year ago the Sunday school was discontinued.

The present officers of the church are: Trustees, David Martin, Andrew Annan, Mrs. J. L. Nester and I. M. Annan; Elders: Dr. A. A. Martin, Dr. James K. Gray, J. L. Nester, Frederick J. Longpre, E. A. Seabrook and John N. Franklin. The labor and money to this cause, for without this the service could not have been possible," the pastor said. He urged the members of the congregation to rededicate their lives to the service of Christ through the church as "this beautiful sanctuary is rededicated. This could be the greatest of all re-dedications, the beginning of a revival," he declared.

After the opening of the service and an anthem by the choir followed by the service and prayer of dedication, the Rev. Mr. Owens introduced the Rev. John Hays, a former resident of Emmitsburg who is now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Mansfield, Pa.

The Rev. Mr. Owens thanked "all those who contributed their time, labor and money to this cause, for without this the service could not have been possible," the pastor said. He urged the members of the congregation to rededicate their lives to the service of Christ through the church as "this beautiful sanctuary is rededicated. This could be the greatest of all re-dedications, the beginning of a revival," he declared.

KUNKEL BLASTS DUFF SPENDING

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—U. S. Rep. John C. Kunkel opened his campaign for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator with a "deficit spending" blast at Gov. James H. Duff. He promised there would be more of them.

Kunkel, in a radio address last night, accused Duff, who seeks the same nomination, of appropriating as his "personal property" a Republican state program initiated by former Governors Arthur H. James and Edward Martin, now senator.

"You no longer hear about the Republican program for Pennsylvania," Kunkel said. "Now it's the Duff program. Good Republicans resent that. The program in Pennsylvania is a Republican program, made possible by the fine work of Governors James and Martin, who put the state back on a sound financial basis after a previous era of runaway spending."

"Governor Duff fell heir not only to the ideas and the laws, but also to large sums of money already appropriated. His special innovation in these plans was to throw the state back into deficit spending."

The congressman's "deficit spending" reference apparently was to a revival of the general state authority

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 26 (AP)—The navy plans to use heavy beaching gear on the next attempt to tug the Missouri, the nation's only active battleship, off a Chesapeake Bay shoal. In Washington, navy officials announced plans for an investigation and a naval court of inquiry on how and why the "Big Mo" ran aground.

The navy will make the next try at freeing the ship on February 2. Failing in three attempts to haul the battleship free with a fleet of tugs, salvage officers dug deeper into their bag of tricks today and came up with the announcement that heavy beaching gear will be used.

as the commonwealth's borrow and build agency. It was first created during the Democratic Earle administration. Duff asked the 1949 Legislature to revive it as a means of financing the commonwealth's building program without raising state taxes. The authority sells bonds to raise money for building purposes. The rentals are used to pay off the bonds.

Kunkel also accused Duff of getting the patronage club to get support of county leaders and said that Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, who is supporting Duff, "long ago abandoned any pretense of neutrality or open-mindedness."

THE BREAK-UP

There is little more to say:
Right or wrong he ran away
Some blame him, and some aver
All the blame should go to her.
Now in shattered ruins deep
Lies the home they'd vowed to keep.

How explain it? Only they
Know just why he went away.
We who censure merely see
What has happened. Blind are we
To the cause that lies behind,
Hidden in the heart and mind.

Friends condemn and friends defend,
Love has reached a dismal end.
Broken is the solemn vow;
Stands the home deserted now.
This is all there is to say:
Right or wrong he went away.

Their first meeting was opened formally with impressive dignity in the royal gallery of the palace of Westminster by King George, who bespoke success in ending competition in building ships of war, the nations, each in turn, declaring their interest for common sacrifice in the common interest.

SEEK QUICK VOTE ON EXCISE SLASH

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—An immediate vote on a $700,000,000 slash in excise taxes was sought in the House today by Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin. He ran the risk of being ruled out of order.

The top House Republican formed his excise-cutting bill as an amendment to a measure taxing investment income of life insurance companies.

"There will be a buyers' strike," Martin said—unless excise action comes quickly.

His bill—one of 200 by Republicans and Democrats calling for excise cuts—would slash by one-half or more the 20 per cent retail levies on such things as jewelry, furs, luggage and toilet preparations. It would reduce the take on theater tickets, transportation and communications.

Martin's obstacles were considerable. A point of order could be raised on the ground that an excise bill cannot be presented properly as an amendment to the corporation income tax section of the revenue code. That is the part of the code affected by the insurance company bill.

Further, a great number of Democrats—although they want excise tax relief—probably would not support

PITCHING CAN KEEP PHILLIES IN FLAG RACE

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Most of the smart baseball people argue that the Philadelphia Phillies can be a pennant contender this year if they come up with some real pitching.

The Phils got an unexpected lift last year from southpaw Ken Heintzelman, but the 34-year-old veteran can hardly be expected to repeat his 17-game winning season. The same can be said of right-hander Hank Borowy who won 12 games last year at the age of 33.

That apparently isn't worrying the Phils' brain trust any.

Some Good Youngsters

"We've got a good nucleus to start with," said Benny Bengough, Manager Eddie Sawyer's No. 1 pitching coach, in Heintzelman, Robin Roberts, Russ Meyer and Curt Simmons.

"Then there will be some good kids in camp this year," the bald-headed former catching great of the famous 1927 Yankees continued. "There's Bubba Church, Jocko Thompson and Ed Wright from Toronto, Bob Miller, Bill Kozarek and Paul Stuffer from Terre Haute, and Milp Candini from the west coast."

Another highly rated youngster is right-hander Bob Miller. A bonus player, Miller won 19 games for Terre Haute in the Three-eye league and fanned 207 men. Miller was one of the three ace Terre Haute pitchers. The others are Kozarek and Stuffer.

Rely On Newcomers

Having enjoyed considerable success with their youth movement during the past few years, the Phils played the bystanders' role in the recent busy trading sessions. Instead they preferred to rely on their crop of promising young newcomers.

One of those is Ed Sanicki, a 25-year-old outfielder. A chunky right-handed hitter, Sanicki gave a good account of himself in the few games he played with the Phils in the closing weeks of last season. His first three major league hits were home runs and the blows won a couple of games.

Other new faces on the roster are outfielder Johnny Blatnik, first baseman Bill Glynn and catcher Lou Heyman. Blatnik has been up before. His 294 mark plus 15 homers at Toronto indicate he may have learned to hit that curve ball. Glynn hit only 263 for the same club but batted in 96 runs and cracked 23 out of the park. Heyman has been in the Phillies' farm system since 1945 and is regarded highly despite his .230 batting average with the Maple Leafs.

PENN STATE IS WINNER AGAIN

Pittsburgh, Jan. 26 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's basketball team is convinced today it can't beat Pennsylvania State College. It's tried both the "deep freeze" and the wide-open game. Both failed.

The second chapter of the Pitt-Penn State story unfolded last night on Pitt's home floor. The visitors won 58-51, their second victory over the Panthers in a week.

Saturday night Pitt went to State and froze the ball most of the time. The Panthers, refusing to try and break State's zone defense, just passed the ball back and forth.

The stunt backfired when Pitt lost possession of the ball and by the end of the half Penn State was ahead 5-0. The second half was played in regulation-style and the Lions copped an easy 34-21 victory.

Their win last night wasn't easy. Both teams resorted to fast-breaking ball playing. Penn State had to rally in the last two minutes to break a 50-50 tie. The visitors showed their power by scoring four field goals while holding the Panthers to a foul.

Snead Choice In Arizona Tourney

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 26 (AP)—Sam Snead may be the logical favorite, but the crowd today will be watching the fellow for whom the $10,000 Ben Hogan open golf tournament here was named.

Most of the gallery at yesterday's pro-amateur preliminary followed Hogan, the bantam better whose fellow pros didn't think would recover from critical auto accident injuries before next summer.

Ben's 71 was three strokes off the 68 fired by Snead, the 1949 golfer of the year, but it proved he was ready to go. And those rounds yesterday don't count in the 72-hole totals.

Yesterday's pro-amateur saw Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., team with Phoenix amateur Bill Sauffey for their second consecutive title. They had a best ball 63 with Palmer carding a 67 medal score—beaten only by Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif., veteran, and Dale Anderson of Hinesdale, Ill., who both had 66.

The Kosi River dam, to be erected in eastern Nepal, will be between 750 and 800 feet high—taller than the Hoover Dam on the Colorado River.

Citation Entered In Today's Races

Aradica, Calif., Jan. 26 (AP)—Citation's second race in his comeback campaign and the forthcoming $100,000 Santa Anita maturity held turf interest here today.

Jimmy Jones, trainer for the Calumet stables, switched plans and decided to send Citation—carrying 130 pounds for the first time—into a six-furlong sprint in another move toward getting the horse ready for the two stakes coming up. They are the $50,000 San Antonio handicap February 11 and the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap two weeks later.

Citation drew tougher competition in today's race than he did in his initial return January 18. Included were some of the thoroughbreds he'll encounter in the major stakes, notably the durable on Trust, and Double Jay, and outsiders Huon Kid, Mice and Royal Blood. Citation was sidelined for 13 months by a leg injury.

The Calumet star was handed top weight of 130 pounds, his heaviest impost to date but two under his assignment in the $100,000 race. Royal Blood drew 122, On Trust 118, Double Jay 116, Mice 114, and Huon Kid 107.

OWENS CHOSEN BIGGEST TRACK STAR OF ERA

By TED SMITH

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Jesse Owens, who in one blazing afternoon broke five world records and tied a sixth and then went on to win four Olympic gold medals, emerged today in the AP's mid-century sports poll as the greatest track athlete of the era since 1900.

The tall negro sprinter received 201 votes from the nation's sports editors and sportscasters. Jim Thorpe, the versatile Indian who won the Olympic decathlon in 1912 only to lose his honors on professionalism charges, was second with 74. Thorpe has already won the AP poll as the greatest football player.

Third place was close between Paavo Nurmi, Finnish distance runner, with 31 votes, and Glenn Cunningham, the American distance ace, with 30.

Literally hundreds of thousands of athletes have tried to smash standard world track records, but never before—nor since—did one man accomplish so much in so short a space of time as Owens did on May 25, 1935, in the Big Ten track meet at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Competing for Ohio State university, he tied the 100 yard record at .094, and set new world marks of .20.3 for 200 yards, .22.6 for the 220 yard low hurdles, and 26 feet 8 1/2 inches for the broad jump.

Olympic Ace

Since 200 meters is a trifle shorter than 220 yards, Owens' times in the 220 yard dash and 220 yard hurdles also were accepted as world records at the metric distances. All these astounding records were formally accepted as international standards.

Then Owens became the brightest star of the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin, winning the 100 and 200 meters, the broad jump, and running a leg on the victorious 400 meter relay team.

At one time Owens either held outright or possessed a joint share in eight standard outdoor world records, to say nothing of a variety of indoor ones. In addition to the marks made at Ann Arbor, he held a share in the 100 meters and in the 400 meter relay.

Mel Patton of Southern California headed the new crop of sprinters that hammered away at Owens' standards, until now Owens holds a clear title only to the 220 yard dash, the 200 meter dash, and the broad jump (all set at Ann Arbor)—and Patton has even applied for a new 220 yard record at .20.2, while Lloyd La Beach has asked recognition for the same time in the 200 meters.

JIM THORPE IS HONORED GUEST AT STARK FIELD

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)—A weary Jim Thorpe came back to the scene of his outstanding exploits—still looking the part of the nation's greatest grid star of this century.

It was to Stark Field at Carlisle Military Barracks that the 61-year-old Indian turned for his fondest memories. Thirty-eight years ago the Red Tornado raced up and down that same field to set the pace for modern students of football.

Back in 1912 Stark Field was the home grounds for the famed Carlisle Indians of the government's Indian institute. The old school became an Army post in the first world war.

It was there that several thousand Carlisle residents and personnel of the barracks, now an Armed Forces Public Information school, gathered today to hear what "Big Jim" had to say.

Thorpe started his central Pennsylvania homecoming last night at nearby Harrisburg where the sports scribes of the capital city designated him "the outstanding athlete in Pennsylvania history."

Gov. James H. Duff, who admitted he had long been a Thorpe fan, presented him with the award before some 700 persons, including many of the present-day athletic greats.

To Tour Barracks

Thorpe told a reporter he was overcome with the suddenness of his climb back into the public eye. Only the day before sportswriters, in an Associated Press poll, named him the greatest football player of this century.

"It was great to see the folks haven't forgotten old Jim," he said. But the fire of old Jim Thorpe was there when he lashed out to the Amateur Athletic Union—a sort of spot with Jim since he was disqualified from the 1912 Olympics for playing a game of pro football.

Today's events started off with a testimonial luncheon at a local service club. Then a tour of Carlisle Barracks. Later another testimonial dinner will wind up the day.

SCHOOL LOOPS WILL WIND UP MIDWAY RACES

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—The state Veterans' Commission said today applications from ill veterans for financial aid are pouring in at an alarming rate.

"At the present time the flood of requests for help is causing us to spend double our monthly allotment of funds," said Miss Margaret M. Carlin, executive assistant for the commission. The 1949 Legislature appropriated $1,500,000 to the commission to finance its operations during 1949-51.

Miss Carlin said the commission furnishes aid in the form of food, fuel and rent to ill or bedridden veterans who require immediate help. She said the aid usually extends for three months, and in exceptional cases another three months of help is granted.

The commission official said, however, that because of a fairly low demand for aid in the past, some ill veterans have been allowed to remain on the rolls for as much as a year or longer.

Baby Chicks Up in 1949

A preliminary estimate of baby chicks hatched in Pennsylvania during the year 1949 is announced at 63,755,000 by the state Department of Agriculture from federal-state year-end surveys.

The total output of Pennsylvania commercial hatcheries for 1949 was the third largest of record dating back to 1938, the department said. Production last year was 14 per cent above the 55,800,000 total for 1948.

Pennsylvania hatcherymen generally anticipate a decreased output of chicks in 1950. The continued decline in egg prices and exceptionally low prices for broiler chickens retarded demand for chicks during December. However, the number of eggs in incubators on the first of the year indicated that the usual seasonal increase in hatchings has started. Production during the next few months will show increases over December output.

Last month hatcheries of the state produced 1,640,000 chicks, two per cent less than December, 1948, but 12 per cent above the 1943-47 average for the month. The January 1 price per hundred for straight run chicks averaged $17 for heavy and light breeds and $16.50 for cross breeds.

Nationally, baby chick production in 1949 totaled more than 1 1/2 billion chicks, the largest production of record. It was exceeded only by the record high production in 1945 and a previous record production in 1943.

FBI SMASHES BIG FUR RING

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—FBI agents, dropping their disguises after posing for six months as midtown furriers, have seized three men charged with being the core of a ring that has stolen $1,000,000 worth of furs.

The prisoners, who face a hearing before a U. S. Commissioner February 8, are two fur dealers and a veteran driver for the Railway Express agency.

The driver allegedly picked up furs at freight depots, manipulated his pick-up slips and delivered the furs to his fellow prisoners instead of to the rightful consignees.

PENNA. BEER TAX DROPS BUT LEVY ON SMOKES IS UP

By JOHN DEITRICK
Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania's new beer tax law, which drops the tax on beer but raises the tax on cigarettes, was signed today by Gov. D. B. Ewing.

Returns from the state beer tax for the last seven months of 1949 showed a lag of $930,868 under estimated receipts for the period.

However, cigarette tax collections for the period ran $2,777,317 over the estimated return.

The four-cent cigarette tax produced $25,635,417 for the seven-month period, while the beer tax brought in $14,239,201.

Above Estimates
Meanwhile, the state budget bureau reported that tax collections for the state general fund during the first six months of the current biennium, beginning June 1, 1949, totaled $97,418,531.

"This represents some $3,000,000 over our estimated returns for the period," a budget spokesman disclosed.

The budget bureau also reported an unexpected increase in Pennsylvania's controversial soft drink tax during the six month period. Collections totaled $8,471,389, or $671,352 over the estimate for the period.

The state's capital stock tax also ran ahead of estimates for the period. Receipts from the tax for the six months totaled $4,650,710. This was $1,450,710 over what budget officials expected.

Took A Loss
The Commonwealth took a loss, however, from its inheritance tax. Collections from this tax totaled $9,729,222 for the six months. This represented a drop of $1,193,287 under the estimated return.

The state expects to receive in $553,300,000 in general fund receipts during the 1949-51 biennium. This does not include revenue from motor licenses, gasoline and special fees such as game and fish licenses.

Individual revenue estimates include $47,269,000 from beer tax; $27,000,000 from soft drink levy; and $75,000,000 from the cigarette tax.

FINAL TRIAL FOR

was announced that the sixth case, an action in trespass brought by R. W. Sawyer, Sr., Lemoyne, against Lester L. Wise, had been settled.

Four of the trespass actions are against Sober with the plaintiffs being Lester L. Wise, Norman L. Thumma, Franklinton; Bruce E. and Ruthetta R. Wise, Wellsville, and Clyde Eichelberger and Shirley D. Wise, Lewisberry.

The fifth case is that of Wilford C. Sober, Archie C. Sober and Nelson A. Sober against Lester L. Wise. The accident occurred near York Springs when a car driven by Lester L. Grandpa, Boy And 11 Dogs 'In Doghouse'

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 26 (AP)—Jerry Clark and his grandfather are in the doghouse—along with 11 dogs. Jerry, 15, found a stray dog recently on his way home from high school. There already was one dog in the Clark household and Jerry's father, Melvin, put his foot down. No more dogs.

Jerry's grandfather, William Clark, who resides nearby, came to Jerry's aid. They hid the dog at his house. But the dog didn't exactly cooperate in the secret. She gave births to 10 pups.

That was a little too much of a thing to keep secret. Jerry's father has discovered the plot. Jerry and his grandfather are trying to find takers for the 10 pups.

Grandmother Clark isn't particularly happy about the situation, either. "A dog is fine for a boy," she says, "but 12 are too many. They are not cheaper by the dozen."

To Call Matthews On Denfeld Ouster

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Chairman Matthews (D-Md.) today agreed to call Secretary of the Navy Matthews before the Senate armed services committee next week for questioning about the ouster of Admiral Louis Denfeld as top Navy commander.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) was pressing a formal demand for Matthews' appearance when Tydings broke in: "That won't be necessary."

Later the chairman promised to "do all in my power" to have the Navy Secretary appear "next Monday or Tuesday" at a closed session of the committee.

Prior to the committee meeting today Knowland and other Republicans claimed enough Democratic support to force the session with Secretary Matthews. Tydings had opposed it.

WALLACE DENIES LEWIS CHARGES

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace said today he had "absolutely nothing to do with" wartime uranium shipments to Russia.

Wallace, wartime Vice President, testified before the House un-American activities committee. He asked to be heard after Radio Commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., said in a broadcast last month that Wallace helped the Russians get supplies of atomic materials. Uranium is used in making the A-bomb.

In a statement, Wallace told the committee he did not even know the Russians were asking licenses for the shipments. He added: "I did know that Lend-Lease recommended, after consulting with the Manhattan District, that they be issued, and the agency which I headed, the Bureau of Economic Warfare, had no discretionary authority with respect to them."

The Manhattan District was the Army's name for the wartime atomic bomb project. The Board of Economic Warfare (BEW), which Wallace headed, had control over exports and imports of war-vital materials.

COST OF LIVING DROPS SLIGHTLY

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—A slight drop in the cost of living was indicated today in preliminary estimates of the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the month ending December 15.

A small increase had been recorded on November 15 from the October index of 168.5 per cent of the 1933-1939 average cost of living.

The index is based on consumer prices paid by moderate income families in urban communities. The November figure was 168.6, two per cent higher than in November, 1948, and 26.5 per cent higher than in June, 1946, when most price controls were lifted.

The November index also was 71 per cent above the level of prices in August 1939, the bureau reported.

Under terms of the contract between General Motors corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers, production and salaried workers get pay adjustments every three months keyed to the cost-of-living index. The next adjustment will be next month, based on the index for January 15.

Dairymen Claim Hidden Treasure

Philadelphia, Jan. 26 (AP)—A group of dairy farmers appeared today as the latest claimants to a $92,800 treasure found in the cellar of a South Philadelphia home.

John F. McDermott, an accountant, testified yesterday that more than $200,000 in assets of the Victor daries had "disappeared" before the firm went bankrupt in July, 1943.

The "treasure trove" was reported found by Benjamin Lieberman, one-time bookkeeper for the Victor daries, in the cellar of his home.

"We contend that this money was taken from the Victor daries and that is the basis of our claim," Raymond J. Broderick, attorney for the dairymen's group told Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini.

BONDED BABY SITTERS? SURE!

St. Louis, Jan. 26 (AP)—Bonded baby sitters? Why not?

Those are the questions of Paul P. Connole, manager of the St. Louis office of the Missouri Employment Service.

It was Connole who announced recently that a state government was going into the baby sitting business for the first time. He has 200 sitters at work now.

And he says they have received high praise from the clients they have served, at the rate of between 50 and 75 cents an hour.

He explained the bond feature is to be included to set at rest the fears of parents who want to avail themselves of the baby-sitter supply service, but who are "understandably reluctant" about bringing total strangers into their homes.

A St. Louis firm has agreed to "cover" the first bonded baby sitters in the country, Connole added.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
AS A FRIEND

What a glorious distinction, just to remain in the background—as a friend. The greatness of another, attained, how very little any of us can add to it. We add honor to ourselves simply through that fact of friendship with greatness.

Said Maria Edgeworth, referring to her friendship with Sir Walter Scott: "I glory in the thought that my name will go down to posterity as his friend." It is difficult to read the life story of anyone who has gained fame and honor, without meeting up with many who were that one's friend.

Admiral Peary once wrote to me that he owed his final triumph in the discovery of the North Pole to his "iron men" who were his faithful followers and friends. In my first meeting with Capt. Bob Bartlett, I mentioned this and never did another extol Peary as did this rugged captain of the sea. He was perfectly willing to remain in the background—as a friend.

Just imagine what a world of happiness would be ours if only nations would talk over their misunderstandings—as friends! No need then of marching armies, guns, planes, and devilish demons of death and destruction. The most powerful peace propaganda in the world is friendship propaganda.

As a friend, many a one has loaned to a worthy person, a sum that gave him an early footage, inspiring him toward his goal. Such was the loan that Scott gave to Thomas Campbell, the poet, as a youth. Our encouragement, as a friend, however, far outweighs any other consideration. As even our kindly criticism, as a friend.

These daily talks are written as the words of one unseen friend to another. As such they present their only claim for being. As a friend we can speak boldly without fear of a misunderstanding. As a friend we can even enter territory "where angels fear to tread." There is something so sincere and genuine about a friend.

As a friend our better nature is always in triumph. Friends can work peaceably and happily together. From my office building I look out upon the rising United Nations structure, and I say to myself only as that organization works—can it survive.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Why Not Happiness?"

Just Folks

THE BREAK-UP
There is little more to say:
Right or wrong he ran away
Some blame him, and some aver
All the blame should go to her.
Now in shattered ruins deep
Lies the home they'd vowed to keep.

How explain it? Only they
Know just why he went away.
We who censure merely see
What has happened. Blind are we
To the cause that lies behind,
Hidden in the heart and mind.

Friends condemn and friends defend.
Love has reached a dismal end.
Broken is the solemn vow:
Stands all the home deserted now.
This is all there is to say:
Right or wrong he went away.

Re-decorated Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church Is Re-dedicated At Special Service On Sunday

Sunday evening, January 22, the Presbyterian church of Emmitsburg held a service of rededication. Rev. Charles S. Owen, pastor. Guest minister at the service was Rev. John Hays who preached on "The Riddle of Man."

The church had an early beginning. Nearly one hundred and eighty-nine years ago the Presbyterian settlers formed a congregation near Emmitsburg. Since those early days when pioneers cut their way through the wilderness, the church has developed and has had a marked influence on the history of this area.

Early Presbyterian settlers in Frederick county, Md., came from Scotland and the north of Ireland.

Built in 1839
Along the Gettysburg road, near the Presbyterian cemetery, the congregation worshipped for seventy-eight years until 1839, when the church was torn down and rebuilt in Emmitsburg.

The Rev. Robert McMordie was appointed to supply at "Monokasy" in September, 1760. (Taken from the minutes of the Presbytery of Donegal, which was created in 1732.) This is believed to be the first notice of preaching in this area.

Other ministers serving the congregation from 1761 to present are: Rev. John Beard, Rev. Robert Smith, Rev. Samuel Thompson, Rev. W. Edmeston, Rev. John Simons, Rev. William Magaw; 1775 to 1779, Rev. Hezekiah Balch; vacant, with occasional supplies, till 1782; 1783 to 1789, Rev. John McKnight; vacant from 1790 to 1791, supplies; 1792, to 1796, Rev. Dr. William Paxton; vacant from 1797 to 1800, supplies; 1800 to 1810, Rev. Patrick Davidson; vacant from 1811 to 1813, with supplies; 1814 to 1865, Rev. Robert S. Grier; 1866 to 1873, Rev. Isaac M. Patterson; 1873 to 1897, Rev. Dr. William Simonton; 1897 to 1905, Rev. Dr. David H. Riddle; 1905 Rev. Kenneth M. Craig, Rev. L. B. Heasley, Rev. John D. Chase, Rev. Thomas T. Brown, Rev. Irwin N. Morris, and Rev. Mr. Owen, the present pastor.

Dr. Balch First Pastor
Members of Tom's creek in the early history of the Presbyterian church knew nothing but toil and hard labor. Walking or going to church by horseback or through all kinds of weather were usual in those days. Willingly, the people did this for the sake of being able to worship as they pleased and that they might establish the foundation for the future builders of the same faith.

Rev. Dr. Hezekiah Balch was the first pastor of the present church and preached for four years.
Second pastor, after being without a permanent one for two years, was Rev. Dr. John McKnight. Rev. McKnight received the promise of 50 bushels of wheat from each of congregations, Tom's Creek and Lower Marsh Creek church as part payment of his salary.

Joined With Piney Creek
For four years Dr. William Paxton served the congregation. Rev. Patrick Davidson followed Paxton as pastor of the church.

Tom's Creek and Piney Creek for the first time in a period of forty years united under the same minister. This lasted through successive pastorates for three-quarters of a century.

Rev. Robert Riddle was numbered on April 12, 1814, and was remembered among one of the few pastors who lasted so long. Rev. Mr. Grier spent his entire ministry at the parish. He was an earnest, instructive, clear and an extremely energetic preacher. Rev. Grier knew the gospel and how to preach it in a plain and direct way. His people felt as if they belonged to him and he to them, since he remained so long. "Grierites" was the name the church often called themselves.

Church Burned
During the ministry of Rev. Mr. Isaac M. Patterson from 1866 to 1873 both houses of worship were remodeled and refurbished. A parsonage property was purchased, enlarged and improved at an expense of several thousand dollars. Judgment, tact, and prudence were required in this emergency. The cause of benevolent contributions was increased; prayer meeting and lecture were established; the training of children in the Sabbath school, and other things of equal importance were a few of the many accomplishments during Rev. Patterson's faithful pastorate.

The church was again torn down and a new gothic church which cost $9,000 was constructed in 1878 during the ministry of Rev. William Simonton. On August 28, 1902, this structure was struck by lightning and was entirely consumed. It was rebuilt and occupied for the first time in 1904 under the ministry of Rev. David H. Riddle.

In April of 1839 the lot to build the church was bought from the Misses Mary and Margaret Knox.
Installed In 1942
Through the years there have been many changes and additions. A little over a year ago the Sunday school was discontinued.

The present officers of the church are: Trustees, David Martin, Andrew Annan, Mrs. J. L. Nester and I. M. Annan; Elders: Dr. A. A. Martin, Dr. James K. Gray, J. L. Nester, Frederick J. Lonepre, E. A. Seabrook and John N. Franklin. The treasurer is Mrs. J. L. Nester and the clerk of session is J. L. Nester.

Rev. Charles S. Owen, the present pastor of the congregation, was called to the Presbyterian church in Emmitsburg in March of 1942 and was installed the same year. The remodeling of the church has been completed. The floors were sanded and refinished. The walls were painted and a new carpet was placed and other improvements made as a climax to an undertaking by the members of the congregation begun last summer under the leadership of Samuel Hays.

The Rev. Mr. Owens thanked "all those who contributed their time, labor and money to this cause, for without this the service could not have been possible," the pastor said.

He urged the members of the congregation to rededicate their lives to the service of Christ through the church as "this beautiful sanctuary is rededicated. This could be the greatest of all re-dedications, the beginning of a revival," he declared.

After the opening of the service and an anthem by the choir followed by the service and prayer of dedication, the Rev. Mr. Owens introduced the Rev. John Hays, a former resident of Emmitsburg who is now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Mansfield, Pa.

affairs committee, reported that this committee was working on an attraction which, if secured, he said, would bring thousands to Gettysburg during the celebration.

The "block party" or bazaar which was held last year at the engine house, will be held this year on the recreation grounds at the west end of Breckenridge street. Tents will be used to house the various attractions. The committee plans to have a large tent as a dining hall with equipment for serving meals.

A committee headed by Billy Shearer is obtaining data on a fireworks display, and another committee headed by Donald Jacobs is making plans for an enlarged program for county firemen's night.

KUNKEL BLASTS DUFF SPENDING

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—U. S.

Rep. John C. Kunkel opened his campaign for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator with a "deficit spending" blast at Gov. James H. Duff. He promised there would be more of them.

Kunkel, in a radio address last night, accused Duff, who seeks the same nomination, of appropriating as his "personal property" a Republican state program initiated by former Governors Arthur H. James and Edward Martin, now senator.

"You no longer hear about the Republican program for Pennsylvania," Kunkel said. "Now it's the Duff program. Good Republicans resent that. The program in Pennsylvania is a Republican program, made possible by the fine work of Governors James and Martin, who put the state back on a sound financial basis after a previous era of runaway spending."

"Governor Duff fell heir not only to the ideas and the laws, but also to large sums of money already appropriated. His special innovation in these plans was to throw the state back into deficit spending."

The congressman's "deficit spending" reference apparently was to revival of the general state authority

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 26 (AP)—The navy plans to use heavy beaching gear on the next attempt to tug the Missouri, the nation's only active battleship, off a Chesapeake Bay shoal. In Washington, navy officials announced plans for an investigation and a naval court of inquiry on how and why the "Big Mo" ran aground.

The navy will make the next try at freeing the ship on February 2. Failing in three attempts to haul the battleship free with a fleet of tugs, salvage officers dug deeper into their bag of tricks today and came up with the announcement that heavy beaching gear will be used.

as the commonwealth's borrow and bid agency. It was first created during the Democratic Earle administration. Duff asked the 1949 Legislature to revive it as a means of financing the commonwealth's building program without raising state taxes. The authority sells bonds to raise money for building purposes. It rents the buildings to the state. The rentals are used to pay off the bonds.

Kunkel also accused Duff of wielding the patronage club to get support of county leaders and said that Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, who is supporting Duff, "long ago abandoned any pretense of neutrality or open-mindedness."

PENNA. BEER TAX DROPS BUT LEVY ON SMOKES IS UP

By JOHN DETTRICK

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—Pennsylvania's drinking less beer but are smoking more cigarettes.

Returns from the state beer tax for the last seven months of 1949 showed a lag of $930,868 under estimated receipts for the period.

However, cigarette tax collections for the period ran $2,777,317 over the estimated return.

The four-cent cigarette tax produced $25,635,417 for the seven-month period, while the beer tax brought in $14,539,201.

Above Estimates
Meanwhile, the state budget bureau reported that tax collections for the state general fund during the first six months of the current biennium, beginning June 1, 1949, totaled $97,418,531.

"This represents some $3,000,000 over our estimated returns for the period," a budget spokesman disclosed.

The budget bureau also reported an unexpected increase in Pennsylvania's controversial soft drink tax during the six-month period. Collections totaled $8,471,369, or $671,362 over the estimate for the period.

The state's capital stock tax also ran ahead of estimates for the period. Receipts from the tax for the six months totaled $4,650,710. This was $1,450,710 over what budget officials expected.

Took A Loss
The Commonwealth took a loss, however, from its inheritance tax. Collections from this levy totaled $9,729,222 for the six months. This represented a drop of $1,193,287 under the estimated return.

The state expects to take in $653,300,000 in general fund receipts during the 1949-51 biennium. This does not include revenue from motor licenses, gasoline and special fees such as game and fish licenses.

Individual revenue estimates include $47,200,000 from beer tax, $27,000,000 from soft drink levy, and $75,000,000 from the cigarette tax.

FINAL TRIAL FOR

was announced that the sixth case, an action in trespass brought by R. W. Sawyer, Sr., Lemoyne, against Lester L. Wise, had been settled.

Four of the trespass actions are against Sober with the plaintiffs being Lester L. Wise, Norman L. Thumma, Franklinton; Bruce E. and Ruthetta R. Wise, Wellsville, and Clyde Eichelberger and Shirley D. Wise, Lewisberry.

The fifth case is that of Wilford C. Sober, Archie C. Sober and Nelson A. Sober against Lester L. Wise. The accident occurred near York Springs when a car driven by Lester L. Wise with the Wises, Thumma and Eichelberger as passengers, struck a truck driven by Sober and owned by Sawyer, which had been parked, apparently, partially on the road.

S. L. Allison Serves
One additional civil case, an equity action brought by H. Jacobs and Sons, Inc., of Hanover, against William Re. Hanover; Irving Pearlstein and Sol Lance, of New York and the Cannon Shoe company, will be tried during the week of February 6 without a jury.

S. L. Allison, Fairfield, a former prothonotary, was serving as deputy prothonotary in the court room today. Miss Edna Eicholtz, former deputy prothonotary, is acting prothonotary since the death of Prothonotary Arthur H. Shields, it was noted today. She will serve as acting prothonotary until a governor's appointment is made to fill the office until the next municipal election which will occur next year.

Members of the jury hearing the Sober-Wise cases are Kenneth Byers, Littlestown; Walter Pissel, Gettysburg R. 1; Paul Guise, Biglerville; Bruce Hartman, Biglerville R. 2; Raymond Hobbs, Fairfield; Calvin Ketterman, Biglerville R. 2; Harry Marks, Aspers; Mrs. Francis Patterson, Gettysburg R. 1; Miss Ethel Resser, East Berlin; Mrs. Mary E. Grandpa, Boy And 11 Dogs 'In Doghouse'

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 26 (AP)—Jerry Clark and his grandfather are in the doghouse—along with 11 dogs.

Jerry, 15, found a stray dog recently on his way home from high school. There already was one dog in the Clark household and Jerry's father, Melvin, put his foot down. No more dogs.

Jerry's grandfather, William Clark, who resides nearby, came to Jerry's aid. They hid the dog at his house. But the dog didn't exactly cooperate in the secret. She gave birth to 10 pups.

That was a little too much of a thing to keep secret. Jerry's father has discovered the plot. Jerry and his grandfather are trying to find takers for the 10 pups.

Grandmother Clark isn't particularly happy about the situation, either. "A dog is fine for a boy," she says, "but 12 are too many. They are not cheaper by the dozen."

Other members of the board who will retire next week in addition to Appier are: William H. Armer, Edward C. Beard, Harold Y. Cromwell, George C. Fissel, Hubert A. Gallagher, John G. Tellers for the election were C. Leslie Fair, Jr., Charles Riley and Eugene Trostle.

Willis W. Gibbel, 60, of nearby Littleton, and his son, Robert B. Gibbel, 40, of Lancaster, operators of a Lancaster insurance agency for many years, waived leaving before Alderman J. Edward Wetzel yesterday and were held for grand jury action.

W. F. Hovetter, a representative of the complaint companies, said the alleged speculations occurred on or about December 1, 1939, and on other times.

added that the average price per bushel was $1.30 as compared with $1.90 a bushel in 1948. He said the final total apple crop in Pennsylvania was 9,630,000 bushels. Estimates given by county growers previously had set the Adams county apple crop at more than 3,000,000 bushels, about one-third of all apples grown in the state.

This afternoon Dr. John R. Maness, head horticulturist in charge at the United States Department of Agriculture station at Beltsville, Md., will speak on apple production in the Appalachian area.

Dr. B. A. Porter, in charge of fruit insect investigations for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will speak Friday on "Status of New Orchard Insecticides and Possible Tolerances." Others on the Friday program include Dr. Henry Thurston of the department of botany, Penn State college, Doctor Lewis and Henry Heisey, Greencastle.

To Call Matthews On Denfeld Ouster

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) today agreed to call Secretary of the Navy Matthews before the Senate armed services committee next week for questioning about the ouster of Admiral Louis Denfeld as top Navy commander.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) was pressing a formal demand for Matthews' appearance when Tydings broke in: "That won't be necessary."

Later the chairman promised to "do all in my power" to have the Navy Secretary appear "next Monday or Tuesday" at a closed session of the committee.

Prior to the committee meeting today Knowland and other Republicans claimed enough Democratic support to force the session with Secretary Matthews. Tydings had opposed it.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26 (AP)—Milk producers in the Philadelphia marketing area want farm milk prices to remain at $5.50 per hundredweight.

Spokesmen for the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative and for the Milk Distributors association of the Philadelphia area yesterday asked officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Production and Marketing administration and members of the Pennsylvania Milk Control commission to suspend seasonal price schedules.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)— A $235,000 building program is planned by Pennsylvania Power and Light company this year. President Charles E. Oakes told the board of directors that approved the 1950 construction budget yesterday the company's postwar expansion program will be completed in three years at an approximate cost of $80,000,000.

FBI DIRECTOR SAYS SPY WORK IS AT NEW HIGH

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The FBI says the job of protecting the country from spies is greater now than at the peak of World War II.

Asking for an enlargement of his force, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a congressional hearing that the end of the war served only to balloon the work of his agents in protecting the nation's internal security.

Hoover's report was contained in House Appropriations committee hearings made public today. In the same hearing, Immigration Inspector Watson B. Miller said there are approximately 3,000,000 aliens in the United States—some 3,500 of them deportable and free under court bond, but whom no other nation will accept.

Can't Complete Work Assistant Commissioner W. F. Kelly said border inspectors found it almost physically impossible to carry out required examinations at border stations.

As one example of the problem, he explained there are between 8,000 and 11,000 persons in Canada who are officially listed by the Canadian government as subversive.

Kelly estimated there are thousands of aliens now in the United States unlawfully, and of whom the immigration service has no knowledge.

Hoover said internal security problems are growing steadily, with the FBI's work load at a record high, and declared:

Major Crimes Increase "The need, I think, is paramount to control the dangers that are inherent in communism and the subversive activities of foreign-inspired espionage groups that are operating in this country."

Major crime is also on the up-trend, Hoover reported. He said that in the first nine months of 1949 the number of major crimes was nearly 12 per cent larger than in the last year.

Hoover asked for $57,400,000 to run the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the fiscal year starting July 1. This is an increase of $594,589 over the current fiscal year.

Part of the added funds would go toward another 577 employees, of which 324 would be special investigating agents.

FBI DIRECTOR SAYS SPY WORK IS AT NEW HIGH

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The FBI says the job of protecting the country from spies is greater now than at the peak of World War II.

Asking for an enlargement of his force, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a congressional hearing that the end of the war served only to balloon the work of his agents in protecting the nation's internal security.

Hoover's report was contained in House Appropriations committee hearings made public today.

In the same hearing, Immigration Inspector Watson B. Miller said there are approximately 3,000,000 aliens in the United States—some 3,500 of them deportable and free under court bond, but whom no other nation will accept.

Can't Complete Work
Assistant Commissioner W. F. Kelly said border inspectors found it almost physically impossible to carry out required examinations at border stations.

As one example of the problem, he explained there are between 8,000 and 11,000 persons in Canada who are officially listed by the Canadian government as subversive.

Kelly estimated there are thousands of aliens now in the United States unlawfully, and of whom the immigration service has no knowledge.

Hoover said internal security problems are growing steadily, with the FBI's work load at a record high, and declared:

Major Crimes Increase
The need, I think, is paramount to control the dangers that are inherent in communism and the subversive activities of foreign-inspired espionage groups that are operating in this country."

Major crime is also on the up-trend, Hoover reported. He said that in the first nine months of 1949 the number of major crimes was nearly 12 per cent larger than in the last year.

Hoover asked for $57,400,000 to run the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the fiscal year starting July 1. This is an increase of $594,859 over the current fiscal year.

Part of the added funds would go toward another 677 employees, of which 324 would be special investigating agents.

UNION CLAIMS STEEL BOOST "EXCESSIVE"

Washington, Jan. 26.—The CIO Steelworkers union said today recent steel price increases were caused by an industry "public be hanged with a bad example" and not by higher labor costs.

Some top steel executives said yesterday that even with last month's $4 a ton general increase, prices are too low for the future health of the industry. But the union said the boost was "unwarranted and indefensible."

O. S. Brubaker of Pittsburgh, research director and spokesman for the union that claims 1,000,000 members, said the price rise was "far in excess of any demonstrable cost increases."

Have Heard Steel Officials

Brubaker's statement—50 statistics—was prepared for delivery before the Senate-House Economic committee, which has been looking into the price boosts.

Until today the committee had heard only from the heads of the steel companies. Without exception they cited higher costs, especially the new pension and insurance programs the steelworkers got after their strike last fall.

These programs are to be financed entirely by the steel companies.

Four of these firms—Inland Steel, National Steel, Jones and Laughlin and Allegheny Ludlum—filed statements with the Senate group expressing the view that prices for their products still are not high enough.

President Clarence B. Randall of Inland Steel commented that Congress "obviously cannot on one hand ask us to risk new capital (for expansion) and on the other deny us the earnings by which such capital can be attracted."

Earnest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, added that "steel profits have been moderate."

But Brubaker insisted that the industry is seeking "outrageously higher profits." He said that the pension and insurance programs could have been handled without any increase in prices, and declared: "We are tired of being a public whipping boy for this industry."

His Main Points

Here are some of the main points in Brubaker's argument:

1. The increase, generally listed at $4 a ton, actually was more than that on a majority of the items sold.
2. Steelmaking costs have declined since the middle of 1948. Brubaker said the industry was saving $100,000,000 a year on scrap and another $30,000,000 on fuel oil and non-ferrous metals.
3. The industry has made "wholly"

Youth Sentenced To 58 Days In Jail

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 26.—Arthur L. Britt, 24, Jamestown, N. C., nabbed in a wild 63-mile police chase from Harrisburg to Greencastle, started serving a 58-day sentence Tuesday in the Cumberland county jail.

Three magistrates imposed total fines of $167.50 or 58 days in jail last night after hearings on a series of charges of violating the state motor code. Britt, who had only 30 cents to his name, took the jail sentences.

Robert Apple, 19, of Greensboro, N. C., arrested with Britt, still is being held for investigation. Two girls from the state epileptic colony at Selma, who were with the two at the time state police caught up with the car Saturday night were returned to the Selma institution.

Sheriff H. F. Shaver said Britt reported the car he was driving was stolen by himself and Apple in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Apple's attempts to blame the union for the rise in prices.

4. "The steel industry is unwilling to absorb, or even try to absorb, costs as long as the market for steel will permit a price increase."

Luenburg, Germany, Jan. 26.—The Russians were reported today to have begun digging uranium from a new field in the Soviet zone of Germany. Five German workmen who said they fled from the mine described it as located in the Harz mountains, about 25 miles from the British zone border.

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—The state Justice Department has disclosed that an investigation is underway on tax settlements made by the auditor general's department under former Democratic Auditor General G. Harold Wagner. The probe was started on the basis of an anonymous letter to the department with a copy addressed to Walter H. Annenburgh, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Why Should a Dollar's Worth of Travel Continue to Cost You $1¹⁵?

"IS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?" you were asked in 1941, when every inch of space was needed for troops and war supplies.

To discourage travel then, a tax was added on your travel dollar, a tax that grew to 15% during the war. The Federal Government collected it through the railroads. The Government still collects it, though your travel need not be rationed now.

Today, the original purpose of this tax is as obsolete as an Air Warden's helmet. But, four years after the war's end, YOU are still paying the Government at the rate of $250,000,000 a year in travel tax.

And, of the billion and three quarters collected since 1941, over half came out of your pocket after the green light on travel went on again.

You don't have food rationing today... you don't have gasoline rationing today.

Yet, a very real brake is still being put on travel. On a coach trip from New York to Chicago, for example, YOU are still paying $4.61 in Federal tax.

And the same with the goods that are shipped to your home community. On every dollar you pay for freight, you pay the Government an extra 3 cents (4¢ a ton on coal). That means YOU are still paying over $300,000,000 a year —freight tax alone.

This tax should be repealed NOW. There is no longer any reason you should pay $1.15 for every dollar's worth of travel... $1.03 for every dollar of railroad freight.

ANGLO-GERMAN FRIENDSHIP IS BEING SOUGHT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Twice in a generation Britain has suffered all but mortal wounds from German aggression. It therefore is of peculiar interest to find the high commissioner of the British zone in Germany calling for the burial of hatreds and a renewal of Anglo-German friendship.

That's what happened the other night when General Sir Brian Robertson gave a heart-to-heart talk before the Hamburg Overseas club. He wasn't begging for friendship from his German audience, but rather was stating the need for it in the blunt language of a soldier.

The general gave his subject in the forthright question, "Can England and Germany be friends?" Then right at the start of a down-to-earth talk he stated his premise for an affirmative answer like this.

Church's Answer Right

"Our spiritual mentors would probably tell us that the question which I have posed is simple to answer. Englishmen and Germans are all God's children and brothers. They can be friends and should be friends. You may feel that such an answer is impractical and unrealistic. However, religion itself is not impractical and I believe it to be right to remember that the answer which the churches would give to my question is 'fundamentally right.'"

That is strong mustard, coming from a British soldier who has spent some of the best years of his life fighting Germans. In fact his speech tacitly recognized that the taking of such a position is indeed strong mustard. There is, as he stated, "a somewhat long tradition of enmity" between Germany and England.

And why should these old enemies want to be friends? One good reason is the cost of past wars to both of them, in blood and destruction.

"A second good reason," said Sir Brian, "is surely to be found in the fact that both countries today are menaced by a common peril (a reference to the Communist offensive) the threat to our security, our freedom and our common civilization is obvious for all to see. There is another reason of more general nature. Our world is contracting. Man's inventions have reduced distance and improved communications to such an extent that the nations are thrown together as it were much more than in the past."

"England and Germany today live very close one from the other and I am very clear that they should want to be friends."

Sir Brian minced no words in ce-

PHOENIXVILLE'S OUTLOOK BRIGHT AS MILL OPENS

Phoenixville, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP) — Crippled by the shutdown of its main industry for the past nine months, this community of 14,000 once again is prosperity bound.

The Phoenix Iron and Steel Co. opened its facilities yesterday for full production of structural shapes. Nine months ago, Phoenixville suffered a staggering unemployment blow when the full complement of 1,200 laborers, office workers and executive personnel was thrown out of work.

The shutdown last May was ordered by Kaiser-Frazer Corp., then owners of the property, because the plant no longer was of practical use in the automotive industry.

Idle Five Months

Kaiser-Frazer purchased the steel plant from the Phoenix-Apollo Steel

Littlestown — Mrs. Kenneth D. James, West King street, will be hostess to the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. John's Lutheran church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Assisting Mrs. James as hostess will be Mrs. Malcolm Heiser and Mrs. Mazze Asper.

The Starr Bible class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold its January meeting this evening at 7:45 p. m. in the church social hall. Mrs. Arthur E. Barr is chairman of the program committee, assisted by Mrs. Holman L. Sell and Miss Lillian Dutera.

There will be a reorganization meeting of the Littlestown Baseball

Co. in November of 1948 and produced steel for less than six months. During that time Kaiser-Frazer's output here was 25,000 tons of finished and semi-finished steel products a month.

The 268-acre property lay idle for five months before it was purchased by the Barium Steel Corp. of New York. With funds acquired through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a monumental task of rejuvenating facilities was undertaken by selected personnel from the Central Iron and Steel Co., of Harrisburg, a Barium steel wholly-owned subsidiary.

Joseph A. Sisto, vice president of Barium, was placed in charge. Ninety-five percent of the former Phoenix Iron and Steel Co. employees are back on the job. As soon as scrap supplies are back to normal, the remainder is expected to return.

Full facilities of the Phoenix Bridge Co., a part of the Phoenix Iron and Steel Co., have been in operation for three months.

A three-act comedy, "Two Days to Marry," will be presented by the Young People of Pine's Lutheran church, New Chesler, on Friday, February 3, at 8 p. m. in the social hall of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns. This play is sponsored by the Willing Workers Sunday school class of Grace church, taught by Mrs. Lloyd Weaver. The cast includes: Simon P. Chase, of the black race, Harold Ecker; James J. Dare, a wifeless hero, Dale Ecker, Rudolf B. Sawyer, a timid lawyer, Robert Sibert; Emily Jane Pink, blacker than ink, Elsie Decker; Sadie L. Boese, a widow of choice, Myrna Brown, Imogene McShane, the sweet young thing, Doris King; and Walter M. Barr, a millionaire, Harmon Millhous. The place of the play is in a New York apartment house and the time is the present.

The fourth birthday party of the Littlestown Browne Girl Scouts was held Tuesday afternoon in the fire hall. Prior to the party there was a joint meeting of the three troops, which are Nos. 16, 28 and 34. The party opened with the group singing of the Browne song and "God Bless America." Refreshments and games were enjoyed. The troop committee members were guests. Present Browne leaders are: Troop No. 34, Mrs. A. C. Richards, Jr., and Mrs. Richard M. Phreaner. Troop No. 16, Mrs. Charles Fissel and Mrs. Boners, and Troop No. 28, Mrs. Leonard Kerchner. The Brownies are making hospital favors for Washington's birthday. It was announced that the future meetings of Troop No. 28 will be held after school on Tuesday afternoons instead of Wednesday.

A rummage sale and food sale will be held by the Adult choir of St. John's Lutheran church on Saturday, February 18, in the store-room of J. Arthur Boyd, East King street. This sale will start at 9 a. m. and will continue into the afternoon. It will be for the benefit of the organ fund.

DEFIANT YOUNG MINER LABELS LEWIS DICTATOR

Library, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP) — A young miner who has defied John L. Lewis believes most of the rank and file feel as he does.

Joseph Dickmon, 30, expressed his feelings in a letter to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Dickmon called the president of the United Mine Workers a dictator. He blamed Lewis for most of the strife in the coal fields.

After the letter was published, Dickmon said he didn't fear retribution by miners in his hometown. He declared:

"No 'Dirty Looks'"

"If I am attacked, it will be by imported goons or bodyguards of Lewis and his lieutenants."

Then, Dickmon related that he obtained a good idea of local sentiment by walking to the grocery store.

"Nearly everybody I met yelled out 'Hello Joe, saw your letter in the paper,'" he declared. "Nobody gave me a dirty look."

In Dickmon's own family, however, he met opposition. It came from his father.

Blames Committee

John Dickmon, a coal cutter at the same mine where his son is employed, sized up the present unsettled situation this way:

"I don't think it's Lewis' fault. It's the fault of the 200-man wage police committee."

Young Dickmon says he believes most miners don't want a pay increase. Instead, he says he thinks they would be satisfied with resumption of work at the old contract terms on a two-year contract.

superior trees—crooked, short, and brushy; ones. The culls can be converted into fuelwood, chemical wood, mine props, and pulpwood.

Use Good Lights — Many potato growers have switched to fluorescent lights over the grading table. H. F. McFeely, Penn. State extension marketing specialist, reports that some growers use a warm, pinkish light which helps to detect sunburn and other spots effectively.

Feed Dairy Calf—You can save milk in feeding the dairy calf if calf starter is used, beginning when the calf is four days old. J. C. Nageotte, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, believes in tapering off on the milk when the calf is three or four weeks old, taking about 10 days to stop milk entirely.

Remove Blight Source—To rid your apple and pear trees of blight, remove live blight cankers during the dormant season, suggests Allen H. Bauer, extension plant pathologist of the Pennsylvania State college. The live cankers usually are found at the base of blighted spurs or shoots or on twigs larger than a half-inch in diameter.

Avoid Brooder Fires—Check over the heating facilities and electric equipment in the brooder houses for any defects which might result in fires. Penn. State extension agricultural engineers say that so-called accidental fires often have been prevented by making proper repairs long before the fire broke out.

Keep Disease Out—To avoid any chance of disease being introduced to your poultry flock from the outside, don't let any poultry crates, except your own, come into the poultry house.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold weather slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nagging or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 mils. of kidney wastes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

DELAY DECISION IN CAVE-IN CASE

Philadelphia, Jan. 26 (AP) — The court of Common Pleas reserved decision yesterday on the motions of the city of Philadelphia as trustee of the Stephen Girard estate to have judgment entered in its favor or have a new trial granted.

Verdicts were obtained last November by the borough of Shenandoah in the sum of $431,418.57 and the school district of Shenandoah in the sum of $430,721.54 after a two weeks trial before Judge Edwin O. Lewis in court of Common Pleas No. 2.

The motions for judgment notwithstanding the verdicts and for a new trial were predicated on contention that as matter of law the plaintiffs cannot recover.

The claim against the city arises out of a mine cave-in that damaged

FARM CALENDAR

Care for Hatching Eggs — Take good care of hatching eggs. After 24 hours in a cool, moist, well-ventilated egg room they can be packed in egg cases P. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, advises storing the eggs at 50 to 60 degrees temperature and at least 75 per cent relative humidity.

Repair Sash Now: Repair of hotbed and coldframe sash is a good winter job. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, considers it good business to keep the sash in excellent condition. Use a good white lead putty or one of the liquid putties where the sash and glass lap.

Read about Potatoes — If you plan to grow potatoes commercially, you can get a lot of information out of a new extension publication. It is "Potato Cultural Practices in Pennsylvania" and can be obtained from the office of your county agricultural agent. It covers soils, rotations, fertilizers, cultivation, varieties, and storage.

Cull the Woodlot — Improve the woodlot this winter by cutting out 16 blocks in the Schuylkill county community.

The city was charged with permitting unlawful mining at its Kehley's Run colliery in Shenandoah.

The city disclaimed responsibility, asserting that the Girard estate had no knowledge of the lessee's operations and that the cave-in occurred 350 feet south of the Girard estate property.

Acheson Statement Of Continued Friendship For Hiss Stirs GOP Wrath

NEW MATERIAL FOR ATTACK ON "SOFT" ATTITUDE TOWARD "REDS"

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson's suddenly famous statement that "I do not intend to turn my back on Alger Hiss" stirred Republican wrath today.

A number of those who have been arguing that the Roosevelt-Truman administrations have been "soft" toward communism prepared to follow the lead of Senator Mundt (R-S.D.).

Mundt directed a three hour attack on Hiss, Acheson and administration foreign policies late yesterday in the Senate.

Questions Raised
Of Acheson's statement that he wouldn't turn his back on Hiss—an old friend and State Department associate who has been convicted of perjury in a trial that linked him, with communists—Mundt had this to say:

"The important thing is not the manner in which Dean Acheson permits Hiss to influence the position of his back—the thing that Americans would like to know is how far Dean Acheson has permitted Hiss to influence his mind."

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) wanted to know whether Acheson's statement "might be an indication that the Secretary of State is also telling the world that he will not turn his back on any of the other communists in the State Department."

There were some informal expressions of admiration for Acheson on Capitol Hill, based on the theme of personal loyalty, but there was no apparent rush to his side.

One Democrat, Rep. O'Toole of Brooklyn, criticized the State Department chief. O'Toole told a reporter:

"If Secretary of State Acheson has been quoted correctly, I feel that he has done the greatest disservice to due process of law and the democratic way of life that has ever been done by any high American public servant."

Acheson's remark, at a news conference, came within a few hours of the sentencing of Hiss to five years on conviction of lying in swearing that he never passed any secret State Department documents to an agent for the Communist underground. Hiss maintained his innocence and pledged he would vindicate himself.

The Secretary of State, with some emotion, told reporters:

"I should like to make it clear to you that whatever the outcome of any appeal which Mr. Hiss or his lawyers may take in this case, I do not intend to turn my back on Alger Hiss."

"I think every person who has known Alger Hiss or has served with him at any time has upon his conscience the very serious task of deciding what his attitude is and what his conduct should be."

Mundt Has Plans
Meanwhile Mundt made these recommendations to the Senate based on the Hiss case:

1. Quick Congressional extension of the present three-year time limit for bringing criminal charges on serious crimes involving the nation's security. He said the present statute of limitations "gives base protection to men like Alger Hiss."

2. Passage of the Mundt-Nixon bill to outlaw communists so they could be denied government jobs and unfaithful government workers could be punished.

3. Continued support for activities of the House un-American activities committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers, the former Miss Cora Eckert, were married on January 18, 1900, by the Rev. Himer in the parsonage at the church in New Oxford. They are the parents of six children, all of whom are living: Allen Myers, York; Jacob Myers, Gettysburg; Mrs. Robert Weaver, Hanover; Mrs. Burnell Leonard, McSherrystown; and Donald and Beatrice Myers, who reside with their parents in New Oxford. They also have 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Myers are both in excellent health. Mr. Myers, who is 80 years of age, is employed at a foundry in New Oxford. Mrs. Myers, who is 70 years of age, is employed at the Livingston Shoe company, New Oxford.

A buffet luncheon was served to many relatives from New Oxford, Gettysburg, York, Carlisle, Pleasant Valley, Hanover and McSherrystown.

Work Four Hours To Rescue Miner

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)—Nearly four hours were required to rescue one of two miners overcome by gas in an anthracite mine following a dynamite explosion.

Joseph Flannery, 48, and Albert Galesky, 50, both of New Philadelphia, Pa., were felled yesterday at the end of an almost 100-foot perpendicular slope of the mine.

Galesky was rescued shortly after Kenneth Weikle, St. Clair, Pa., dis-town. The couple received many gifts, flowers and greetings.

ONE of the grandest things about your Buick is the way you can ignore the season—chew your way through gravel and dust alike, splash through the wet stretches, snug and secure even on slippery pavements.

But bear this one thought in mind...

Rough road conditions call for special attention to your lubricants. Tires should be checked for correct inflation—for deep, clean tread that bites on a slick surface. Brakes won't stop you with a sure and gentle touch if the master cylinder needs more fluid, or if an air-bubble has worked itself into the line. These things, and more, should be checked to keep your Buick at its best.

If that sounds like more than one thought to bear in mind—just drive into our shop and tell the man, "LUBRICARE, please."

Our winter Lubricare treatment covers all these points—with specially trained mechanics following factory specifications as they go over your car from end to end.

Drive in this week, why don't you? The price is surprisingly low. The peace of mind is priceless.

SCRIBE CALLS SITUATION IN CHINA "TRAGIC"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The growing war in Asia leaves me in a unhappy state of mind.

Maybe it's because I'm just getting over a nasty attack of bronchitis, but it's difficult to conjure up much optimism about the situation in the Orient.

The position of China, center of this developing storm, is tragic. That sprawling country never has been able to feed its vast population which today totals some 500,000,000, and now the ravages of war have reduced the helpless masses to a pitiful state.

Nature Adds To Havoc

As though that wasn't enough punishment for fate to hand out to China, nature herself has been creating havoc with floods. Communist Premier Chou En-lai recently estimated that last summer's munda-tions in north and central China forced 40,000,000 people from their homes.

Wayne Richardson, veteran AP correspondent in China, quotes a well-informed source, whose name cannot be used, as stating that Communist North China faces the blackest economic picture in the country's history.

Already people are reduced to eating herbs and leaves, says Richardson's informant. He adds that millions will die of starvation before next year's crops are harvested.

"At Sixes And Sevens"

The economic situation is at sixes and sevens. Nan Han-chen, member of the Communist People's Bank of Nanking, says north China farmers are paying at least 20 per cent of their production in taxes. He states that it takes the taxes from 50 farmers just to feed and clothe one soldier. The communists are reported to have 4,000,000 troops in China. Figure that out for yourselves.

What could better this situation? Nothing, excepting a wholesale importation of supplies—foodstuffs, clothing and what not. And where, you ask, could those supplies come from. Well, they would have to come mostly either from Russia or from the western world, chiefly America. But in view of the fact that Russia has been calling for foodstuffs for herself from Manchuria, it seems doubtful if Moscow could help greatly. And the western world is barred by war conditions, even if

FAMILY OF FIVE DIE IN FLAMES

Hatboro, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP) — Fire reared through a row house in a wartime housing project on Wednesday, killing all five occupants of the house.

One might have escaped. Mrs. Clara Morrow, 41, dashed unclipped from the burning house shortly before 3 a. m., to spread an alarm. Her hair had been singed by the flames. Then, she ran back into the house—to her death.

Mrs. Morrow's body was found on the floor of the kitchen in the five-room house built of concrete block.

UNION CLAIMS
STEEL BOOST
"EXCESSIVE"

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The CIO Steelworkers union said today recent steel price increases were caused by an industry "public be hanged attitude" and not by higher labor costs.

Some top steel executives said yesterday that even with last month's $4 a ton general increase, prices are too low for the future health of the industry. But the union said the boost was "unwarranted" and "indefensible."

Otis Brubaker of Pittsburgh, research director and spokesman for the union that claims 1,600,000 members, said the price rise was "far in excess of any demonstrable cost increases."

Have Heard Steel Officials

Brubaker's statement—65 statisticians—was prepared for delivery before the Senate-House Economic committee, which has been looking into the price boost.

Until today the committee had heard only from the heads of the steel companies. Without exception they cited higher costs, especially the new pension and insurance programs the steelworkers got after their strike last fall.

These programs are to be financed entirely by the steel companies.

Four of these firms—Inland Steel, National Steel, Jones and Laughlin and Allegheny Ludlum—filed statements with the Senate group expressing the view that prices for their products still are not high enough.

President Clarence B. Randall of Inland Steel commented that Congress "obviously cannot on one hand ask us to risk new capital (for expansion) and on the other deny us the earnings by which such capital can be attracted."

Earnest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel corporation, added that "steel profits have been moderate."

But Brubaker insisted that the industry is seeking "outrageously higher profits." He said that the pension and insurance programs could have been handled without any increase in prices, and declared: "We are tired of being a public whipping boy for this industry."

His Main Points

Here are some of the main points in Brubaker's argument:

1. The increase, generally listed at $4 a ton, actually was more than that on a majority of the items sold.
2. Steelmaking costs have declined since the middle of 1948. Brubaker said the industry was saving $400,000,000 a year on scrap, and another $80,000,000 on fuel oil and non-ferrous metals.
3. The industry has made "wholly

Robert Apple, 19, of Greensboro, N. C., arrested with Britt, still is being held for investigation. Two girls from the state epileptic colony at Selingsgrove, who were with the two at the time state police caught up with the car Saturday night were returned to the Selingsgrove institution.

Luenbeurg, Germany, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Russians were reported today to have begun digging uranium from a new field in the Soviet zone of Germany. Five German workmen who said they fled from the mine described it as located in the Harz mountains, about 25 miles from the British zone border.

Harrisburg, Jan. 26 (AP)—The state Justice Department has disclosed that an investigation is underway on tax settlements made by the auditor general's department under former Democratic Auditor General

G. Harold Wagner. The probe was started on the basis of an anonymous letter to the department with a copy addressed to Walter H. Annenburgh, publisher of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Why Should a Dollar's Worth of Travel
Continue to Cost You $1.15?

"IS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?" you were asked in 1941, when every inch of space was needed for troops and war supplies.

To discourage travel then, a tax was added on your travel dollar, a tax that grew to 15% during the war. The Federal Government collected it through the railroads. The Government still collects it, though your travel need not be rationed now.

Today, the original purpose of this tax is as obsolete as an Air Warden's helmet. But, four years after the war's end, YOU are still paying the Government at the rate of $250,000,000 a year in travel tax.

And, of the billion and three quarters collected since 1941, over half came out of your pocket after the green light on travel went on again.

You don't have food rationing today... you don't have gasoline rationing today.

Yet, a very real brake is still being put on travel. On a coach trip from New York to Chicago, for example, YOU are still paying $4.61 in Federal tax.

And the same with the goods that are shipped to your home community. On every dollar you pay for freight, you pay the Government an extra 3 cents (4¢ a ton on coal). That means YOU are still paying over $300,000,000 a year—freight tax alone.

This tax should be repealed NOW. There is no longer any reason you should pay $1.15 for every dollar's worth of travel... $1.03 for every dollar of railroad freight.

LONG STRIKE IS FORECAST AT CHRYSLER

Detroit, Jan. 26 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers faced a possible long strike today for the kind of pension plan they want from Chrysler.

Some union sources said the strike, which started at 10 a. m. (EST) yesterday, might last at least a month. It immediately idled 106,000 workers.

State and federal mediators, however, expressed hope that bargaining talks could be resumed this week.

Willing To Return
Both company and union representatives said they were willing to return any time the mediators arranged a meeting.

At a dead stop was the daily production of 7,000 automobiles by Chrysler, one of the industry's three top producers. Chrysler's major rivals are Ford and General Motors. Basically, the company-union fight was over the form and administration of $100 monthly pensions.

After negotiations covering half a year's time, Chrysler offered the pensions. But the union objected to the conditions.

$5,000 Affected
The walkout affected 85,000 Chrysler production workers, most of them in Michigan. The company makes Chrysler, DeSoto, Plymouth and Dodge cars.

The Briggs Manufacturing Co., Chrysler's biggest supplier, announced it was laying off 21,000 employees. The firm makes auto bodies.

The union permitted 21,000 office and maintenance workers and supervisory employees to pass through token picket lines.

It was a singular strike in one sense. There was no mass picketing. At some plant gates police outnumbered the pickets.

Picketing Unnecessary
Customarily, the UAW has accompanied at least the first few days of its strikes with big forces of marching pickets.

This has been the traditional show of strength—with the added purpose of warding off strikebreakers. Union spokesmen, however, said the UAW was so strong at Chrysler that mass picketing was unnecessary.

"This is sissy stuff compared to 1937," said Russell Watson, 47, a maintenance employee who took part in the sitdown strikes of the turbulent 30's. "In those days we'd run a double picket line four abreast a good half mile along the plant."

Most Back Strike
Although some views differed, most strikers interviewed by reporters expressed support of the walkout.

"It looks like a long strike," said James Bill, with Chrysler for 24 years. "But if we could stick it out with nothing before this, we should certainly make it no."

The six-month-long negotiations broke off with sharp comment from both sides.

Herman Weckler, Chrysler vice-president and general manager, declared the company had offered the union a pension plan "as good or better than any the CIO has won" in the auto or any other industry.

"The union wants a kitty that it can get its hands on," Weckler asserted. He referred to a union demand for the company to set up a trust fund for payment of pensions.

What To Do When Pullorum Strikes

when diagnosed early enough. Sulfamerazine in drinking water in concentration of 0.2 per cent administered for seven days has been most successful. Other effective sulfonamides for pullorum are sulfadiazine, and sulfamethazine. However, one ought to keep in mind that medications are only effective in drinking water, and not in feed, because a large number of sick chicks do not eat at all, but are thirsty and obtain their share of medication by drinking. However, in the final analysis no drugs including the above mentioned will completely and satisfactorily eradicate this disease. Birds which recover from this trouble remain positive reactors and carriers of pullorum. This fact may answer the question why some birds in none tested flocks do not lay as well as others. Birds which have overcome pullorum lay either less or no eggs at all.

The only way to eliminate pullorum from your place is the systematic testing of all birds, and the disposing of positive reactors. The agglutination test can be learned by every able poultryman. Have custom hatching done only by establishments which require eggs from disease free sources. If your chicks have survived pullorum do not keep them for breeding, but dispose of them better as soon as possible as broilers. Disinfect your equipment and poultry house as thoroughly as possible before you obtain replacements. Heavy liming of the grounds where infected birds were placed has also proved quite helpful.

ANGLO-GERMAN FRIENDSHIP IS BEING SOUGHT

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Twice in a generation Britain has suffered all but mortal wounds from German aggression. It therefore is of peculiar interest to find the high commissioner of the British zone in Germany calling for the burial of hatreds and a renewal on Anglo-German friendship.

That's what happened the other night when General Sir Brian Robertson gave a heart-to-heart talk before the Hamburg Overseas club. He wasn't begging for friendship from his German audience, but rather was stating the need for it in the blunt language of a soldier.

The general gave his subject in the forthright question: "Can England and Germany be friends?" Then right at the start of a down-to-earth talk he stated his premise for an affirmative answer like this:

Church's Answer Right

"Our spiritual mentors would probably tell us that the question which I have posed is simple to answer. Englishmen and Germans are all God's children and brothers. They can be friends and should be friends. You may feel that such an answer is unpractical and unrealistic. However, religion itself is not unpractical and I believe it to be right to remember that the answer which the churches would give to my question is 'fundamentally right.'"

That is strong mustard, coming from a British soldier who has spent some of the best years of his life fighting Germans. In fact his speech tacitly recognized that the taking of such a position is indeed strong mustard. There is, as he stated, "a somewhat long tradition of enmity" between Germany and England.

And why should these old enemies want to be friends? One good reason is the cost of past wars to both of them, in blood and destruction.

"A second good reason," said Sir Brian, "is surely to be found in the fact that both countries today are menaced by a common peril (a reference to the Communist offensive).

... the threat to our security, our freedom and our common civilization is obvious for all to see. There is yet another reason of more general nature. Our world is contracting. Man's inventions have reduced distance and improved communications to such an extent that the nations are thrown together as it were much more than in the past. . . .

"England and Germany today live very close one from the other and I am very clear that they should want to be friends."

Sir Brian minced no words in de-

PHOENIXVILLE'S OUTLOOK BRIGHT AS MILL OPENS

Phoenixville, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP) — Crippled by the shutdown of its main industry for the past nine months, this community of 14,000 once again is prosperity bound.

The Phoenix Iron and Steel Co. opened its facilities yesterday for full production of structural shapes. Nine months ago, Phoenixville suffered a staggering unemployment blow when the full complement of 1,200 laborers, office workers and executive personnel was thrown out of work.

The shutdown last May was ordered by Kaiser-Frazer Corp., then owners of the property, because the plant no longer was of practical use in the automotive industry.

Idle Five Months
Kaiser-Frazer purchased the steel plant from the Phoenix-Apollo Steel

clarifying that formidable difficulties lay "in the path which leads towards solid friendship between our two countries. . . . Your task and mine is to work hard that wisdom may prevail."

Sir Brian's talk, I take it, was in effect recognition of the undoubted fact that western Germany is essential to the defensive system being created by western Europe to meet the Communist drive. To put it another way, Britain is maneuvering to gain for western Europe the balance of power. Germany must be an integral part of that set-up.

Littlestown

Littlestown — Mrs. Kenneth D. James, West King street, will be hostess to the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. John's Lutheran church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Assisting Mrs. James as hostess will be Mrs. Malcolm Heiser and Mrs. Maizie Asper.

The Starr Bible class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold its January meeting this evening at 7:45 p. m. in the church social hall. Mrs. Arthur E. Bair is chairman of the program committee, assisted by Mrs. Holman L. Sell and Miss Lillian Dutera.

There will be a reorganization meeting of the Littlestown Baseball

Co. in November of 1948 and produced steel for less than six months. During that time Kaiser-Frazer's output here was 26,000 tons of finished and semi-finished steel products a month.

The 268-acre property lay idle for five months before it was purchased by the Barium Steel Corp., of New York. With funds acquired through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a monumental task of rejuvenating facilities was undertaken by selected personnel from the Central Iron and Steel Co., of Harrisburg, a Barium steel wholly-owned subsidiary.

Joseph A. Sisto, vice president of Barium, was placed in charge. Ninety-five percent of the former Phoenix Iron and Steel Co. employees are back on the job. As soon as scrap supplies are back to normal the remainder is expected to return. Full facilities of the Phoenix Bridge Co., a part of the Phoenix Iron and Steel Co., have been in operation for three months.

club tonight at 8 p. m. in the VFW hall, West King street. All former members and interested fans are invited to attend.

A three-act comedy, "Two Days to Marry," will be presented by the Young People of Pine's Lutheran church, New Chester, on Friday, February 3, at 8 p. m. in the social hall of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns. This play is sponsored by the Willing Workers Sunday school class of Grace church, taught by Mrs. Lloyd Reaver. The cast includes: Simon P. Chase, of the black race, Harold Ecker; James J. Dare, a wifeless hero, Dale Ecker; Ruford B. Sawyer, a timid lawyer, Robert Sibert; Emily Jane Pink, blacker than ink, Elsie Decker; Sadie L. Boise, a widow of choice, Myrna Brown; Imogene McShane, the sweet young thing, Doris King; and Walter M. Bair, a millionaire, Harmon Millhimes. The place of the play is in a New York apartment house and the time is the present.

The fourth birthday party of the Littlestown Brownie Girl Scouts was held Tuesday afternoon in the fire hall. Prior to the party there was a joint meeting of the three troops, which are Nos. 16, 28 and 34. The party opened with the group singing of the Brownie song and "God Bless America." Refreshments and games were enjoyed. The troop committee members were guests. Present Brownie leaders are: Troop No. 34, Mrs. A. C. Richards, Jr., and Mrs. Richard M. Phreaner; Troop No. 16, Mrs. Charles Fiesel; and Mrs. Bowers; and Troop No. 28, Mrs. Leonard Kerchner. The Brownies are making hospital favors for Washington's birthday. It was announced that the future meetings of Troop No. 28 will be held after school on Tuesday afternoons instead of Wednesday.

A rummage sale and food sale will be held by the Adult choir of St. John's Lutheran church on Saturday, February 18, in the store-room of J. Arthur Boyd, East King street. This sale will start at 9 a. m. and will continue into the afternoon. It will be for the benefit of the organ fund.

DEFIANT YOUNG MINER LABELS LEWIS DICTATOR

Library, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)—A young miner who has defied John L. Lewis believes most of the rank and file feel as he does.

Joseph Dickmon, 30, expressed his feelings in a letter to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Dickmon called the president of the United Mine Workers a dictator. He blamed Lewis for most of the strife in the coal fields.

After the letter was published, Dickmon said he didn't fear retribution by miners in his hometown. He declared:

No "Dirty Looks"

"If I am attacked, it will be by imported goons or bodyguards of Lewis and his lieutenants."

Then, Dickmon related that he'd obtained a good idea of local sentiment by walking to the grocery store. "Nearly everybody I met yelled out 'Hello Joe, saw your letter in the paper,'" he declared. "Nobody gave me a dirty look."

In Dickmon's own family, however, he met opposition. It came from his father.

Blames Committee
John Dickmon, a coal cutter at the same mine where his son is employed, sized up the present unsettled situation this way:

"I don't think it's Lewis' fault. It's the fault of the 200-man wage police committee."

Young Dickmon says he believes most miners don't want a pay increase. Instead, he says he thinks they would be satisfied with resumption of work at the old contract terms on a two-year contract.

FARM CALENDAR

Care for Hatching Eggs — Take good care of hatching eggs. After 24 hours in a cool, moist, well-ventilated egg room, they can be packed in egg cases. P. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, suggests storing the eggs at 59 to 60 degrees temperature and at least 75 per cent relative humidity.

Repair Sash Now: Repair of hot-bed and coldframe sash is a good winter job. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, considers it good business to keep the sash in excellent condition. Use a good white lead putty or one of the liquid putties where the sash and glass lap.

Read about Potatoes — If you plan to grow potatoes commercially, you can get a lot of information out of a new extension publication. It is "Potato Cultural Practices in Pennsylvania" and can be obtained from the office of your county agricultural agent. It covers soils, rotations, fertilizers, cultivation, varieties, and storage.

Cull the Woodlot — Improve the woodlot this winter by cutting out 16 blocks in the Schuylkill county community.

The city was charged with permitting unlawful mining at its Kehley's Run colliery in Shenandoah.

The city disclaimed responsibility, asserting that the Girard estate had no knowledge of the lessee's operations and that the cave-in occurred 350 feet south of the Girard estate property.

DELAY DECISION IN CAVE-IN CASE

Philadelphia, Jan. 26 (AP) — The court of Common Pleas reserved decision yesterday on the motions of the city of Philadelphia as trustee of the Stephen Girard estate to have judgment entered in its favor or have a new trial granted.

Verdicts were obtained last November by the borough of Shenandoah in the sum of $431,418.57 and the school district of Shenandoah in the sum of $430,721.54 after a two weeks trial before Judge Edwin O. Lewis in court of Common Pleas No. 2.

The motions for judgment notwithstanding the verdicts and for a new trial were predicated on contention that as matter of law the plaintiffs cannot recover.

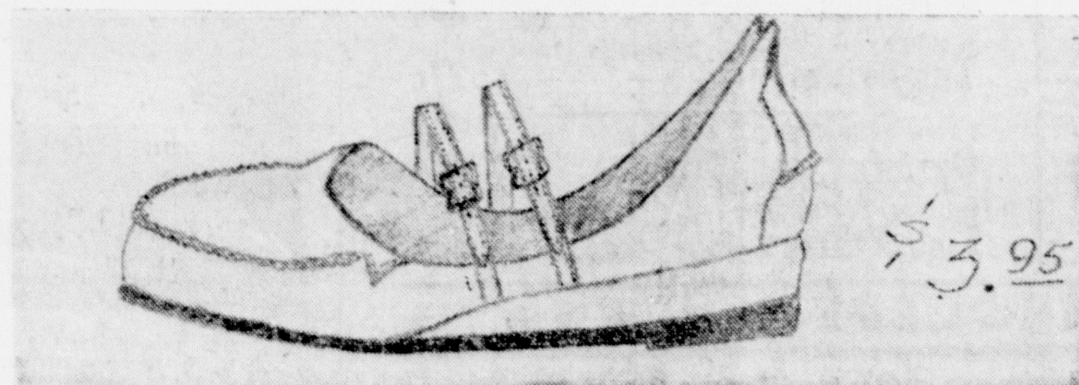

The claim against the city arises out of a mine cave-in that damaged

SCRIBE CALLS SITUATION IN CHINA "TRAGIC"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The growing war of the isms in Asia leaves me in a unhappy state of mind.

Maybe it's because I'm just getting over a nasty attack of bronchitis, but it's difficult to conjure up much optimism about the situation in the Orient.

The position of China, center of this developing storm, is tragic. That sprawling country never has been able to feed its vast population which today totals some 500,000,000, and now the ravages of war have reduced the helpless masses to a pitiful state.

Nature Adds To Havoc

As though that wasn't enough punishment for fate to hand out to China, nature herself has been creating havoc with floods. Communist Premier Chou En-lai recently estimated that last summer's inundations in north and central China forced 40,000,000 people from their homes.

Wayne Richardson, veteran AP correspondent in China, quotes a well-informed source, whose name cannot be used, as stating that Communist North China faces the blackest economic picture in the country's history.

Already people are reduced to eating herbs and leaves, says Richardson's informant. He adds that millions will die of starvation before next year's crops are harvested.

"At Sixes And Sevens"

The economic situation is at sixes and sevens. Nan Han-chen, member of the Communist People's Bank of Nanking, says north China farmers are paying at least 20 per cent of their production in taxes. He states that it takes the taxes from 30 farmers just to feed and clothe one soldier. The communists are reported to have 4,000,000 troops in China. Figure that out for yourselves.

What could better this situation? Nothing, excepting a wholesale importation of supplies—foodstuffs, clothing and what not. And where, you ask, could those supplies come from. Well, they would have to come mostly either from Russia or from the western world, chiefly America. But in view of the fact that Russia has been calling for foodstuffs for herself from Manchuria, it seems doubtful if Moscow could help greatly. And the western world is barred by war conditions, even if

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — Miss Anna Marie Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Boyle, East Main street, spent Sunday at Mechanicsburg where she attended a hockey game between the Rainbow Skating rink and Mechanicsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorton Rogers, Mrs. John F. Kelly, Mrs. Robert Topper, and Mrs. Marie Rosensteel and daughter, Barbara Ann, spent Friday evening in Baltimore where they viewed the body of Mrs. Barbara Tennyson, a sister-in-law of Mr. Kelly.

Over-the-Topcup met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. George Thompson, West Main street. The evening was spent in playing canasta.

Miss Ruth Gillelan, Miss Ann Coles, the communists wanted help from that source.

It's safe to assume that China's economic plight has been one of the main topics of discussion between the Chinese Communist chief, General Mao Tze-tung, and Marshal Stalin in their protracted Moscow conference. One would suppose that Stalin would do his utmost to solve the problem without giving western powers a chance to get into the picture any further than they are already.

dori, Miss Grace Rowe, Mrs. James T. Hayes, Mrs. Morris Zentz, Mrs. Harry Boyle and Mrs. Andrew Kellholtz were those from Emmitsburg who attended the annual tea at the Warner hospital in Gettysburg given by the auxiliary's executive committee on Monday afternoon.

Visiting at the home of Mrs. Guy Topper, West Main street, is Miss Patricia Topper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Topper, of Illinois.

Rev. John Hayes has returned to Mansfield, Pa., after spending several days at the home of his mother, Mrs. Minnie Hays, West Main street. Rev. Mr. Hays was the guest minister at the re-dedication service of the Presbyterian church here on Sunday evening.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Boyle, East Main street, on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks and daughter, Anne, Warner Welsh and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, all of Baltimore.

FAMILY OF FIVE DIE IN FLAMES

Hathorn, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP)—Fire reared through a row house in a wartime housing project on Wednesday, killing all five occupants of the house.

One might have escaped. Mrs. Claire Morrow, 41, dashed unclothed from the burning house shortly before 3 a. m., to spread an alarm. Her hair had been singed by the flames. Then, she ran back into the house—to her death.

Mrs. Morrow's body was found on the floor of the kitchen in the five-room house built of concrete block.

Safer question. In line with this, the West German cabinet announced its decision to continue a policy of close cooperation with the Western Allies—particularly France.

The natives of the Marianas Islands are Chamorros, which in Portuguese means people "with cropped hair." They were so named by Magellan.

The bodies of her husband and three daughters were burned "to a crisp," fire officials reported.

They were identified as Horace Morrow, 39, a machinist employed at the nearby Willow Grove Naval Air Station, and daughters, Virginia, 14; Patricia, nine, and Loletta, two.

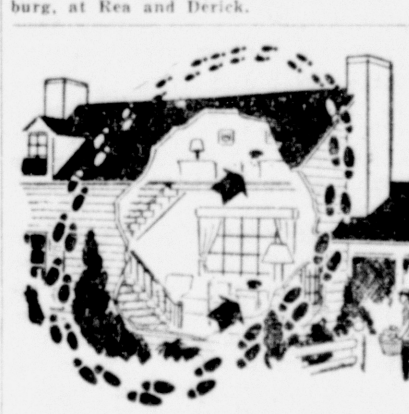

Fire officials said they were at a loss to explain how the blaze started.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Monday, Jan. 26 (AP)—Bulgaria's Communist Premier Vassil P. Kolarov died Monday after a long illness.

Kolarov had been premier since last July 20. He succeeded Georgi Dimitrov, the Bulgarian communist leader who died last June in Moscow.

Kolarov's communist-dominated government had resigned January 17 as a constitutional formality following the December 18 National Assembly elections. He was reappointed premier immediately after and formed a new communist-led government.

LONG STRIKE IS FORECAST AT CHRYSLER

Detroit, Jan. 26 (P)—The CIO United Auto Workers faced a possible long strike today for the kind of pension plan they want from Chrysler.

Some union sources said the strike, which started at 10 a. m. (EST) yesterday, might last at least a month. It immediately idled 106,000 workers.

State and federal mediators, however, expressed hope that bargaining talks could be resumed this week.

Willing To Return

Both company and union representatives said they were willing to return any time the mediators arranged a meeting.

At a dead stop was the daily production of 7,000 automobiles by Chrysler, one of the industry's three top producers. Chrysler's major rivals are Ford and General Motors.

Basically, the company-union fight was over the form and administration of $100 monthly pensions. After negotiations covering half a year's time, Chrysler offered the pensions. But the union objected to the conditions.

85,000 Affected

The walkout affected 85,000 Chrysler production workers, most of them in Michigan. The company makes Chrysler, DeSoto, Plymouth and Dodge cars.

The Briggs Manufacturing Co., Chrysler's biggest supplier, announced it was laying off 21,000 employees. The firm makes auto bodies.

The union permitted 21,000 office and maintenance workers and supervisory employees to pass through token picket lines.

It was a singular strike in one sense. There was no mass picketing. At some plant gates police outnumbered the pickets.

Picketing Unnecessary

Customarily, the UAW has accompanied at least the first few days of its strikes with big forces of marching pickets.

This has been the traditional show of strength—with the added purpose of warding off strikebreakers. Union spokesmen, however, said the UAW was so strong at Chrysler that mass picketing was unnecessary.

"This is sissy stuff compared to 1937," said Russell Watson, 47, a maintenance employee who took part in the sitdown strikes of the turbulent 30's. "In those days we'd run a double picket line four abreast a good half mile along the plant."

Most Back Strike

Although some views differed, most strikers interviewed by reporters expressed support of the walkout.

"It looks like a long strike," said James Bill, with Chrysler for 24 years. "But if we could stick it out with nothing before this, we should certainly make it no."

The six-month-long negotiations broke off with sharp comment from both sides.

Herman Weckler, Chrysler vice-president and general manager, declared the company had offered the union a pension plan "as good or better than any the CIO has won" in the auto or any other industry.

"The union wants a kitty that it can get its hands on," Weckler asserted. He referred to a union demand for the company to set up a trust fund for payment of pensions.

What To Do When Pullorum Strikes

when diagnosed early enough. Sulfamerazine in drinking water in concentration of 0.2 per cent administered for seven days has been most successful. Other effective sulfonamides for pullorum are sulfadiazine, and sulfamethazine. However, one ought to keep in mind that medications are only effective in drinking water, and not in feed, because a large number of sick chicks do not eat at all, but are thirsty and obtain their share of medication by drinking. However, in the final analysis no drugs including the above mentioned will completely and satisfactorily eradicate this disease. The birds which recover from this trouble remain positive reactors and carriers of pullorum. This fact may answer the question why some birds in none tested flocks do not lay as well as others. Birds which have overcome pullorum lay either less or no eggs at all.

The only way to eliminate pullorum from your place is the systematic testing of all birds, and the disposing of positive reactors. The agglutination test can be learned by every able poultryman. Have custom hatching done only by establish-

BULLETS MEET PITT SATURDAY IN SMOKY CITY

Gettysburg college's basketball team will play its only game of the week Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock when the University of Pittsburgh cagers will be met on the Pitt stadium floor.

The Panthers recently attained wide recognition by freezing the ball for 18 minutes during the first half of their game with Penn State, the half ending 5-0 and the game being eventually lost by the Panthers 34-21, in protest of the zone-style of play by the Lions. Dr. H. C. Carlson, Pitt coach, is not expected to resort to that strategy against the Bullets who use the man-for-man style. On Wednesday Penn State scored a 58-51 victory at Pitt.

Pittsburgh, although having lost seven games, is expected to give the Bullets a stiff struggle.

Coach "Hen" Bream's Bullets now sport a record of six wins against five defeats with some of its strongest opposition to be met.

Next Wednesday Muhlenberg will be played here with the freshmen meeting Stevens Trade in the preliminary game. On February 4 the Bullets teams play a twin bill with Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster.

Two other college athletic teams will resume action next week after the mid-semester layoff. The wrestlers meet Temple at Philadelphia on Saturday while on the same day the swimmers clash with Drexel in Philadelphia.

Yearly and Plunkert landed 19 and 13 points, respectively, to lead Littletown to a 38-33 victory at Littletown. Miller looped 18 points for New Oxford. The Littletown jayvees won the preliminary game 47-28.

East Berlin dropped its sixth straight loop contest at Newville 47-28 after holding a slight lead at half time. Fry tossed in 18 points for the victors with Altland looping 15 for East Berlin. The preliminary game was won by East Berlin 42-40.

This evening the Gettysburg high basketball team will clash with Delone Catholic at McSherrystown in the return game of the annual two-game series.

The Warriors won a 49-41 decision over the Squires here on December 20 in a game which was marred by the high number of personal fouls called. Delone has shown marked improvement recently and has a winning streak of three straight.

The junior varsity teams will meet in the preliminary game.

HARRIS BRINGS QUARTET WITH HIM TO CAPITAL

By JOE REICHLER
New York, Jan. 27 (AP) — Bucky Harris is either an exceptionally brave man or a glutton for punishment.

Some would regard being dropped as manager of the cellar Senators as a reprieve. Yet the popular Harris is coming back for his third term as Washington pilot.

Harris professes to know absolutely nothing about the last plagues he inherited from Joey Kuhel. Perhaps that is just as well. Anyway, Bucky brought long a quartet of players with him from the Pacific coast league, where he spent a contented season guiding the San Diego club to a First Division finish.

The Senators paid $50,000 for the quartet, half of it going to the Hollywood club for Irv Noren, a slick-fielding, hard-hitting outfielder.

Three Other Rookies

He played in 180 games last year and his 330 batting mark proved a powerful factor in the Stars' drive to the Pacific Coast league pennant and playoff championship.

The other $30,000 went for three draft choices. They are George Genovese, a New York lad who played shortstop for Hollywood; Mickey Grasso, drafted from Seattle after being up briefly as a catcher with the New York Giants; and Steve Nagy, a southpaw pitcher who had a short stay with Pittsburgh. Nagy was drafted from San Francisco.

Harris deems Grasso the best all-around catcher who operated on the coast last year. Mickey hits a long ball despite his insignificant 251 bat mark. Genovese didn't hit too well for the Stars, but was a fine fielder. His mark was 250. Nagy won 15 and lost 14 for the Seals.

There are a half-dozen other pitchers coming up with the Senators for the first time or getting another crack at the majors. The most promising, off his record, is Conrado Marrero. The Cuban right-hander won 25 for Havana last year and wound up with a marvelous 1.52 earned run average.

Up From Hagerstown

After him there is Sandalo Consegua, another Cuban; Jim Pierce, a 6-6 rookie with a 10-10 record at Charlotte; Howard Sutherland, a home town Washington boy who won 18 at Charlotte; and Bill Dozier, who divided 14 decisions with the same club.

Among the outfield prospects reporting at Orlando, Fla., will be Harold Keller, Charlie's younger brother, who divided his time between catching and playing outfield for Hagerstown, Md., last year.

Another is Roberto Ortiz, who showed he hasn't lost any of his power when he re-joined the Senators late last season. Ortiz jumped the club in 1948 to play in the Mexican league. He was reinstated last summer.

Legalized Gambling Assailed By PIAA

Harrisburg, Jan. 27 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association today warned its 1,039 member schools that their athletes would be "horses on the track" under legalized gambling.

"Legalized gambling would never stop at certain professional sports—no matter what provisions would be regulated for its control," said the PIAA in its monthly publication, "The PaAthlete."

"And should it be made legal for the field of athletics—anywhere, anytime—eventually the estimated quarter million boys and girls in the Pennsylvania Scholastic Athletic programs would be the horses on the track for somebody's immoral gain or another person's vituperative loss," the editorial continued.

The editorial was inspired by New York Mayor William O'Dwyer's advocacy of legalized gambling recently.

The Encyclopedia Americana says minute diamonds occasionally have been found in meteorites, as in one found in Canon Diablo, Arizona, by Dr. G. A. Koenig in 1891.

An average of 70,000 seal pelts are taken each year from the Pribilof Islands.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WHY NOT HAPPINESS?
Robert Louis Stevenson once wrote that "a happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note." A circulating happy person can do wonders. He, or she, can change the entire atmosphere of a home, office, or crowd. What a change comes over a great audience the moment that a comedian enters. Not that any of us should become practicing comedians, but that we should be charged with the same cheer.

Happy people always do a better job than unhappy people. Unhappy people eat into every fibre of our being, slows us up, and makes us inefficient in whatever we engage. So that happiness ought not only to become a habit, but to be practiced as a duty.

A friend of mine sat with me at breakfast in a hotel one morning and said that he always looked around for happy faces. He said that it made him enjoy his meal that much more. We can all testify to the fact that a happy person gives us all a lift, no matter when and how we meet such a one.

Happiness can cure more ills of the flesh than any other remedy ever devised! All nature is a nest of happiness. Birds always seem to be happy, expressing it in song. I ran into a singing taxi driver in my town recently, and he radiated cheer. He handed me some songs he had written. I didn't worry about being safe in his cab!

A happy person can change the entire complexion of a room, even without a word being spoken. Like the sudden turning on of light in that room. Such a one immediately becomes an anonymous benefactor. And what an easy and simple thing it is to manufacture happiness, and scatter it around without limit!

Spread happiness and you spread good will, each time enriching yourself. It's a commodity that keeps manufacturing its own substance the more that it is given out. Selfish people are never happy. No person can be said to be poor who has a happy heart. Nor can happiness be bought. It has to be given.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Mind's Prison."

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D.D., Margaret C. Gold

Acts 10:17-20, 24, 34-43
Memory selection: "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all nations, etc." Matt. 28:19.

In this lesson we come face to face with one of the greatest problems of the human race — interracial relations. The Bible has a number of instances but none is more clearly drawn than the story of Peter's vision at Joppa, his racial pride and God's cure for blind prejudice. Would that the minds and hearts of all Christians could be as sensitive to the voice of the Holy Spirit as Peter's! In this particular case the church as represented by Peter turned the problem into a great opportunity.

Peter was no different from the average man. He was the product of Jewish training and tradition believing that the Kingdom of the Messiah was to be strictly a Jewish Kingdom, and if a Gentile wished to become a Christian he must first become a Jewish proselyte. What a revelation he had on the house top of Simon the tanner!

The Vision
To begin with, tanners were not socially acceptable because of their trade and Peter, the Apostle, was probably antagonizing the Jewish colony at Joppa by staying with Simon. But there a vision came which changed the whole world's concept of Christianity. And Peter was God's humble instrument.

Peter beheld a sheet filled with clean and unclean animals lowered from heaven and God spoke to the Apostle, saying, "Rise, Peter, slay and eat!" But Peter demurred and would not obey. It happened three times while three strangers stood waiting at Simon's door. At last Peter grasped the meaning of the vision. God had given him a different task, a golden opportunity.

The three strangers at the door came in response to another vision, a dream of their master Cornelius who was a God-fearing soldier of Caesarea. An angel had appeared to Cornelius and told him to send for Peter in Joppa and that he would tell him what he should do. So the conscientious centurion did as he was bid, dispatched two servants and a guard and gathered his household together in preparation for Peter's coming.

Opportunity
Now Cornelius was a Gentile, a Roman of considerable importance and means located in the Roman capital of Judea. And he was ready and anxious to receive Peter's message from God. Peter, in the meantime, had entertained the three messengers who were non-Jews, and when he reached Caesarea, accepted for himself and the six brethren who accompanied him the hospitality of the Romans. Already he had overcome the first big hurdle in race prejudice! One writer has said, "Ignorance is the mother of prejudice." Some day we hope that Christian churches everywhere will open their doors to all men regardless of color or nationality.

A New Pentecost
Thus the "big fisherman," led by the Holy Spirit, introduced a new challenge to Christianity which he himself scarcely understood. He was preparing the way for Paul, the great apostle to the Gentiles. The Lord used Peter to open the door of faith to a group of Gentiles just as he had inspired Peter at Jerusalem on the first Day of Pentecost.

The conversion of Cornelius and his household into the Christian faith marked the first time Gentiles had been received into the fellowship without first becoming Jews. It can be called "A Pentecost among the Gentiles" for the Spirit of prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m.

ALCOHOLISM TO BE STUDIED AS STATE PROBLEM

By JOHN DEITRICK

Harrisburg, Jan. 27 (AP)—The commonwealth took a precedent-making step today toward curbing alcoholism in Pennsylvania.

Acting under direction of the 1949 legislature, the State Health Department set up a separate section to be devoted entirely to the problem of alcoholism.

"This is the first time in the state's history," declared Dr. Norris W. Vaux, State Health secretary, "that Christ made the Hebrews and Gentiles ONE in hope and love. The gift of the Holy Spirit came upon them and they spoke with tongues so Peter commanded that they be baptized. In Peter's own words, 'In every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him.'"

Removing Barriers
It is the Church's task as well as privilege to be the first to break down the barriers of hate, jealousy and prejudice. The history of Christian missions around the world shows that the church is awake to her peculiar responsibility and has been carrying on a vast program of evangelism.

God's cure for interracial difficulties is faith in Jesus Christ which must result in true human brotherhood. If we all learn the language of Christian love and forbearance, there will be no national or even political barriers. All men will be purified in the light of Christ's gospel. Let us forget the problem of "foreigners," negroes and Jews as we serve together as citizens of Christ's kingdom here on earth.

YOU MAY Lose YOUR Right to Drive!

There's a new state law effective February 1, 1950 — with teeth in it. It says that if your auto is involved in an accident — even if you're not to blame — you may have to prove financial responsibility up to $10,000 — or lose your driving rights.

The best way to prove financial responsibility is to own insurance now. You must have it before the accident. Farm Bureau auto insurance protects you completely against penalties of the new law. It's non-assessable, backed by $400 millions in assets. It — the state has undertaken action on its own to combat alcoholism." To Gather Statistics

Dr. Vaux said the new section will collect statistics on the problem from state institutions, colleges and other agencies. In addition it will initiate a rehabilitation program for alcoholics in Pennsylvania.
The new section will be headed by Mrs. Helen C. Snyder, of Philadelphia, who has served for many years as an executive with Alcoholics Anonymous. Alcoholics Anonymous is an organization of former alcoholics who have taken a temperance pledge.
Vaux said the new section will study all phases of alcoholism with the aim of aiding persons suffering from the disease.
"This is to be a scientific approach as a health problem," Dr. Vaux explained. "Rehabilitation of people who have been using alcohol can be accomplished," he emphasized, "if approached in the right way and organized properly."
Study conducted by the Joint State Government commission, the General Assembly's fact-finding agency, showed there were some 58,000 alcoholics in the state. The report was turned over to the 1949 legislature.
It said most alcoholics were between the ages of 30 and 55, and noted that approximately 85 per cent of the known alcoholics were male. The report also showed that alcoholism was twice as common in Pennsylvania cities as in rural areas. It estimated that excessive drinking cost Pennsylvania $53,000,000 in one year.

8 EUROPEAN NATIONS SIGN FOR U.S. AID

BY JOHN SCALI
Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—Eight Western European countries sign in the dotted line today for $1,000,000,000 in American arms aid.

About three months behind schedule, ambassadors from Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway and Denmark were to put their signatures to separate arms agreements in ceremonies (2:30 p. m. EST) at the State Department.

These documents give in detail the conditions under which the United States will ship guns, tanks, planes, ships, raw materials and machinery to its Atlantic Pact allies to bolster their defenses against possible Russian attack.

Britain Delayed
President Truman's formal approval of a master defense plan for the North Atlantic area was expected a few hours later.

Congress specified last October when it approved plans to rearm Western Europe, that the administration must approve the strategy outline before the full $1,000,000,000 in arms could be made available.

Britain, whose objections to American terms delayed the negotiations, was listed as first to sign, with Ambassador Oliver Franks initiating the agreement in the morning before leaving for consultations in London.

Despite the slow start, American officials are confident that American military equipment will begin to move overseas about Feb. 15.

France is to get the biggest chunk of American military help because in any Russian attack on Western Europe its army would be expected to bear the brunt of the initial defense.

Log Water Mains Are Found In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Philadelphia Water company today dug up some proof that this is one of America's graybeard cities.

Workmen on an improvement project along downtown Vine street unearthed log water mains. They had served for 200 years and still appeared sound.

The conduits were followed out of tree trunks about 20 feet long and 18 inches thick. A six-inch bore ran through the middle and the logs were joined at the core or short lengths of cast iron pipe.

NEED FOR MORE "BLUE COLLAR" WORKERS CITED

Harrisburg, Jan. 27 (AP)—The state chamber of commerce said today school training programs should concentrate more on fitting youth for blue-collar jobs rather than white-collar jobs.

It called for more vocational training courses in high schools, although explaining it was not antagonistic toward general academic training.

"A sound program of vocational education does not prevent the student from getting a balanced general education," the chamber said. "With the proper selection of course, it gives him a more truly balanced education and constitutes an integrating force in his life."

Cities Survey Results
The chamber cited one of its recent surveys to show that the ratio of blue-collar jobs to white-collar jobs in Pennsylvania is about two to one, adding: "The educational program in Pennsylvania schools is geared at approximately nine to one in the opposite direction—for every pupil enrolled in vocational training courses, there are nine pupils enrolled in general academic and college preparatory courses, being fitted primarily for white-collar positions."

The chamber asked its more than 3,500 member business firms and organizations to promote expanded vocational education programs by selling the idea to local schools.

WOMAN AT 112 IS 'YOUNGSTER'

Wapwallopen, Pa., Jan. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Mary O'Neill, 112, the oldest body of Stonecusher Hill, is 12 past 100 today.

And although she still insists she's just a youngster, Mrs. O'Neill will admit 112 is a very unusual age. "The will of God is the way she explains it."

Yesterday's balmy weather brought more visitors than last January 26, when Mrs. O'Neill was isolated in her four-room cabin by an ice storm.

The mountaineers, of which she lives with a granddaughter and grandson, a source of both pleasure and annoyance.

Much of her time is spent looking out at the picturesque landscape below. "But she adds, 'I don't get out enough. That's all I can do.'"

A native of Yorkshire, England, Mrs. O'Neill married when she was 15 and had seven children. Her husband died when she was 70 and she came to America to be in the Pennsylvania anthracite region.

Two of her children are living. The son, Mr. Mark Dwyer, 72, of Queens, Canada, and daughter, Mrs. O'Neill, 70, of London, England.

What sort of food does a lot of 112 eat? A slice of pie or bread and a cup of tea for breakfast, the same for lunch and a baked or fried fish supper. As a winter treat, she says, "I'm getting quite used to a rabbit stew."

Harrisburg, Jan. 27 (AP)—Pennsylvanians drank less liquor last year but the Commonwealth still made $5,222,910 from its sale. The report came from the state Liquor Control Board which said the figure included boards, school officials and members of the Legislature.

The quarter-million dollar cost of education in Pennsylvania, the chamber said, raises this question: "Are you and the other taxpayers getting your money's worth from the large expenditure?"

Ralph E. Weiss, chairman of the chamber's committee on education, which made the survey.

Urge France To Ease Saar Mine Proposals

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—The United States was reported today to be urging France to modify its proposal for leasing the Saar coal mines, in order to head off the danger of a political crisis in western Europe.

The main American suggestion is said to be that if the French government insists on going ahead, it should make the contract subject to future German peace treaty provisions governing the final disposition of the Saar land.

The issue has grown to include hot French and German political questions over the eventual fate of that Franco-German border area.

American officials said today that unless the Bonn and Paris governments can resolve the problem in friendly fashion all the plans for western European unity will be gravely endangered.

SAFE-CRACKER IS CAPTURED

Pennsylvania state police last week set an elaborate trap for the gang, resulting in one member being killed, a second wounded and a third captured.

Baltimore police picked up Joseph Duggan, 22, on Monday in connection with the case. They sent him to Pennsylvania.

At a preliminary hearing for Zack, Det. Lieut. Allen Crooke told Magistrate James Cadden that Pennsylvania police want the man "and they want him bad."

Crooke said he is wanted in connection with six safe burglaries, with a cash loot totaling more than $8,000.

In the duck of traffic, or on the wide open highway, they are a sheer joy to drive...instantly alert...powerfully responsive. Just a few minutes behind the wheel will convince you that nothing could be finer in action than the great high compression Lincoln "INVINCIBLE 8" engine combined with HYDRA-MATIC...with freedom forever from gear shift and clutch pedal!

And nothing, you will also discover, could be easier than Lincoln's new velvet-touch steering...or more comfortable than its new weather control system...or more restful than its new Fiberglas soundproofing...or more relaxing than the wonderfully soft Lincoln springing.

If you haven't yet made an appointment with us, by all means do so now. Once you drive the new 1950 Lincoln or new 1950 Lincoln Cosmopolitan, you, too, will be certain that nothing could be finer. And we promise you'll be pleasantly surprised about the prices.

WAGE-HOUR ACT DEFINES SOME TERMS ANEW

By NORMAN WALKER
Washington, Jan. 27. (AP)—The case of the window washer is one of the tough ones under the new wage-hour law.

A window washer doing his job in a building where there were firms engaged in interstate commerce was paid to be covered by the old law. Now he may be exempt. But nobody's sure about it.

The doubt comes from the changed definition of who is and who isn't covered. A worker covered by the law must do at least the new 73-cent hourly minimum wage, plus overtime pay at time and half for every hour he works over 40 a week.

The original law said workers were covered if they were engaged in commerce between states or in production of goods from such commerce. It also covered workers "necessary to the production" of goods for interstate commerce.

Some Exceptions
There were some specific exemptions written into the law but that was the general rule.

Under the new law workers still are covered if they are engaged in commerce or production of goods for commerce. (Still covered, too, are workers of an employer whose product, even though sold within one state, later gets shipped across state lines as an ingredient of another employer's product.)

But—there is one big change. No longer does the law affect those workers whose jobs are "necessary for production of goods" for interstate commerce.

Still A Question
Instead of that, Congress applied the new law to workers engaged in a "closely related process or occupation directly essential to the production" of goods for interstate commerce.

Now back to the window washer. His job was held to be "necessary to the production of goods" for commerce under the old law. Will his job be "directly essential to the production of goods" for commerce under the new law? Most people think not. But it's still a question. Why?

Because the Congressmen who had most to do with the final version of the new law put out a statement containing an apparent conflict. It's statement is not part of the law but it's a clue the courts will use when in doubt about what Congress meant.

May Reach Courts
This statement says in one place the maintenance, custodial and clerical workers of firms in interstate commerce are still covered—even though actually employed by an outsider to do that sort of work for an interstate firm.

But in another place the statement says Congress intended to exempt a window washer employed by a local firm to clean windows for firms engaged in interstate commerce. Thus the case of the window washer may wind up in the courts.

Here's another change in the new law: Coverage formerly applied to any firm shipping "from any state to any place outside" that state. Now it applies to any firm shipping between any state and any place outside that state.

Defined A Term
This two-word difference means that importing firms, handling goods from foreign countries, are now covered where they were previously exempt. Exporting firms still are covered, as before.

In addition, Congress, for the first time defined what it means by saying a worker must be "employed in interstate commerce" for the law to cover him.

Regular rate now is defined to exclude gifts, bonuses, certain premium payments, payments for vacation plus illness and other types of payments unrelated to straight pay for employment.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS
Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 27. (AP)—Judge Charles Scott Williams of Lancaster county, says he'll be the "frank and hot" candidate for governor in the Republican primaries next May 16. The 45-year-old former Harrisburg and Altoona newspaperman announced his candidacy at a dinner here last night of the Lincoln club, a local group of Republicans.

WILL PLAY FOR DANCE
Pat Patterson, orchestra leader of Haverhill, will furnish the music for the week dance at the Elks club Saturday evening from 9 o'clock until midnight.

A report was given of a recent directors' meeting, and a contribution was given to the Infantile Paralysis Fund. Four new directors were elected for a term of three years. They are: Samuel H. Higinbotham, Clarence L. Schwartz, Marvin Breighner and W. H. Marshman. Others of the body are: John R. Bloom, Roy Renner, Samuel Renner, Karl Bankert, W. H. Dera, Paul Bowman and Chester S. Byers.

Weikert, chairman of the drive, reported on Thursday night that to date the contributions totalled $328.22 and there are 44 sponsors. Sponsors, in addition to those previously reported, are: Rose-Ella Tot Shop; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dera; Tourne Theatre; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Riden; F. L. Lindaman, Accounting and Advertising Novelties; Bowman's Food Market; Ladies' Aid Society of Redeemer's Reformed church; Loyalty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church; Littlestown Hardware and Foundry Company, Inc.; B. Anna Biele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Biele, Littlestown, R. 1, was chosen champion in the cherry pie baking contest, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Home Economics room of the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school, in which five girls from the 10th grade vied for honors. This contest was under the supervision of Mrs. Virginia Sheely and Mrs. Marvin Breighner, teachers of the department. Second honors went to Anna Petry. Other contestants were Penny Nester, Anna Burke and Mary Chronister.

The Littlestown winner will go to Biglerville on Saturday, February 4, to compete for the county title.

Judges for this contest at Littlestown were Mrs. Joseph R. Riden, Littlestown; Miss Louise Frazier, Gettysburg; and Charles W. Weikert, Littlestown.

D. D. Baschoar, East King street, Littlestown, Adams county Ford tractor and Dearborn farm equipment dealer, has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended a state-wide meeting of dealers. The meeting, sponsored by Dearborn Motors, Detroit, and Gash-Stull company, Chester, was held Wednesday at the Warwick Hotel. He reports that emphasis was placed on improved methods of advertising, merchandising and public relations to enable farm equipment dealers to improve service to their farmer customers. Dearborn officials at the meeting revealed that more than 100,000 Ford tractors were produced in 1949. A large percentage of this record production went on farms in Pennsylvania.

Attending this meeting with D. D. Baschoar were John D. Baschoar, Clarence O. Bankert and Elmer P. Hoffmann.

Power-Curve cleats are higher, tapered — bite in deeper, easier. The special curve braces the cleat and allows full traction without cleats bending or buckling.

Open center tread cleans better. Too, Power-Curve cleats are exactly parallel by mathematical formula. Result: channels between cleats are unobstructed, allow natural cleaning . . . AGAIN MORE TRACTION FROM THE POWER-CURVE!

You'll get up to a year of extra wear from Power-Curve, both in the field and on roads. Reason: new cleats are higher and new sidewall design employs a "furrow strip" or band of extra thick rubber where tires rub on furrows.

A new velvet-smooth ride thanks to scientific cleat angle and spacing of cleats . . .
